Legislature May Face Two Big Issues June 10

Telephone, Labor Bill On Agenda

Week-Long Session Seen by Harriman

Albany, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—The special session of the Legislature, now slated for June 10, may find itself with not one—but two—politically hot issues on its hands.

In revealing the "tentative" date for the session yesterday, Harriman said he might ask the lawmakers to take up the subject of telephone rates, as well as labor-benefits legislation.

Split GOP Command

It was the telephone issue that split the Legislature's Republican high command wide apart during the regular session.

Speaker Oswald D. Heck pushed through the Assembly a Harriman-backed bill that would have blocked a $55,400,000-a-year rate increase sought by the New York Telephone Co. But Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney was firmly opposed and the bill died in his house.

Harriman told his news conference yesterday that he still was giving "sober consideration" to special-session action on the bill. These were the words he used March 30, the day the regular session adjourned, in threatening to recall the lawmakers.

Harriman flatly declared his intention of calling a special session on Monday, when he vetoed the GOP's Unemployment and Workmen's Compensation bills.

Phone Not Mentioned

At that time, he did not mention the telephone issue.

In recent years, special sessions called by former Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey lasted one or two days. Harriman said he wanted the full week clear in case the session ran through the week.

In rejecting the labor bills, Harriman said he was forced to do so even though he had requested the increased benefits they proposed—to raise the weekly maximum from $36 to $45.

He maintained that "unsound and unfair" provisions tied into the legislation made the bill unacceptable.

To Submit New Bills

The governor told reporters yesterday he would submit new bills that proposed to raise the benefits, without making any other changes in the law.

He dismissed as "too iffy" a question as to whether he might try to work out some kind of compromise with GOP legislative leaders.

Harriman said he "wouldn't hesitate to have additional matters brought into the session if they are urgent." But he said he had no other subjects definitely in mind.

A special session may consider only those subjects specified by the governor.

May Grant Immunity

The governor would not say whether he might allow the Legislature to empower its "watchdog" committee to grant immunity to witnesses in its investigations.

At his news conference, Harriman said no one had asked him to include such a subject. Later however, Mahoney and Heck made public in New York city a telegram they had sent to Harriman requesting his aid in getting the witness immunity granted.

Harriman said last night he would give the Mahoney-Heck

APPLE TREES IN BLOOM—Elizabeth Cecelia Derringer, 9, of Stone Ridge, gives The Freeman photographer a preview of apple blossom time in Ulster county, which is expected to be at its peak this weekend. Miss Derringer, daughter of Mrs. Marguerite Derringer, and a third grade student at Marbletown Central School, was photographed in the H. E. Van Winkle orchard, Stone Ridge. County apple growers, meanwhile, were concerned today over the possibility of frost tonight as reports of a "slight freeze" Wednesday night in New Paltz and Modena were received by the Extension Service Agricultural Department. The Ulster-Kingston Civil Defense Council office here reported today it had received numerous requests from area farmers to assist them in securing empty five-gallon drums, which could be used as smudge pots in the event of frost tonight. Points to Platform Approval

Major Cut Would Kill Ike's Promises: Bush

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Sen. Bush (R.-Conn.) said today it is reckless to talk of cutting President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget by three, four or five billion dollars.

Such talk, he said in a speech prepared for the Senate, "will create the impression that Republicans are turning their backs on their pledges" made in their platform last year.

Head of Committee

Bush headed the platform committee at the 1956 Republican national convention.

He told the Senate the budget submitted by the President in January "was intended to provide the funds necessary to carry out the solemn pledges we made to the American people."

Bush said the platform pledged accomplishments in such fields as education, welfare, slum clearance and urban renewal, flood insurance and flood control, highway construction, postal service and foreign affairs.

Elected On Platform

"That was the platform on which President Eisenhower and Republicans supporting him were elected," he said.

"That was the platform overwhelmingly approved by the American people. That was the platform which we have a moral obligation to carry forward to the best of our ability.

"I know that the President has no intention of repudiating his promises, and the Republican party should not permit the people even to suspect that we are less faithful to our trust than he is."

Bush continued:

"I do not contend that the budget cannot and should not be reduced. I believe it is possible to achieve sound economies which will pave the way for tax cuts, but the job requires the careful use of a surgeon's scalpel instead of a butcher's meat-ax."

Bush spoke out at a time when Congressional leaders of both parties were saying they would be glad to help cut the budget and thus pave the way for a bigger tax cut than the one of 1954.

Voters May Now Register for '57 General Election

Central registration is now being conducted at the office of the Ulster County Board of Elections, 74 John street. Registration began on May 1 and will end on September 20. General Election Day is Nov. 5.

In lieu of applying for registration on regular days of registration which this year occurs on Oct. 11, 12, 18 and 19 in the city of Kingston where personal registration is required, and, Oct. 12 and 19 in the county districts outside the city of Kingston, a qualified voter, other than a military voter, may apply in person at the office of the board of elections during the hours the office is open and register for the general election of Nov. 5.

A qualified voter is a citizen who is or will be on the day of general election 21 years of age. A voter must be an inhabitant of the state for one year next preceding the election, for the last four months a resident of the county or city and for 30 days a resident of the election district in which he or she offers his or her vote.

Must Show Evidence

A first voter must present evidence of literacy in the form of an 8th grade certificate or a diploma from a school of higher

Tuesday, May 7, Poll Day

Over 16,000 Can Vote On Junior High School

More than 16,000 persons are eligible to vote in the referendum next Tuesday on the proposed junior high school in the Dietz Stadium area.

A total of 16,094 voters who were registered for the elections in 1956 are eligible. In addition, approximately 25 persons registered at the municipal auditorium during the weeks of April 1-6 and 8-13.

This brings the total to approximately 16,121.

Hours 12 Noon to 9 P. M.

The vote will be held from 12 noon to 9 p. m., Tuesday, May 7, at nine polling places in the city.

The vote will be on a proposed bond issue of $2,667,500 for construction of a 1,000-pupil junior high school.

The city has been divided into nine districts for the balloting, based on the ward system. Wards 1 and 10 have been combind, as have Wards 4 and 5, Wards 7 and 8 and Wards 11 and 13.

Places to Vote

The breakdown, with number of eligible voters and location of polling places:

District 1—Wards 1 and 10, School No. 8, 1,808 voters.

District 2—Ward 2, School No. 6, 2,549.

District 3—Ward 3, School No. 5, 1,982.

District 4—Wards 4 and 5, School No. 4, 2,033.

District 5—Ward 6, School No. 3, 712.

District 6—Wards 7 and 8, School No. 2, 1,605.

District 7—Ward 9, MJM School, 928.

District 8—Wards 11 and 13, George Washington School, 1,722.

District 9—Ward 12, Firehouse on Hurley avenue, 2,755.

In addition to these, of course, are the 25 additional voters scattered throughout the city.

Up to People

Votes on similar school bond issues in the past have been handled by municipal officials. However, on July 1, 1951, an article of state education law made city school districts fiscally independent. All bond issues requiring more than five years to pay off must now be submitted to the people. The issue for the proposed school will be 20-year bonds.

Cost of the four major contracts have been estimated by August S. Schrowang, architect, at $2,131,192.

In addition to this, however, there is an architect's fee, cost of furniture and equipment and installation of storm and sanitary sewers.

Onteora to Show Television Use in School Classroom

Educational television will be demonstrated for the first time in this area at the Ulster County Teachers Conference scheduled Friday at Onteora Central School, Boiceville.

County educators will have the opportunity of viewing the practical application of this electronic aid in classroom work.

John H. Moehle, supervising principal at Onteora, said it will be the first time in this area that "live" educational television has been demonstrated.

Public Invited

The television program of the conference will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., and Mr. Moehle said any persons in the area who are interested in the educational aspects of TV are invited to attend.

The program will be under the direction of Robert C. Rowe, consultant for the Office of Educational Television, State Education Department and Marguerite Hare, assistant professor of the campus school faculty of Brockport State Teachers College. Fifteen third grade students at Onteora will participate.

Instruction From Studio

Mr. Moehle explained that the students will assemble in a classroom and will be instructed by a teacher through closed circuit television from a studio nearby. Teachers attending the conference, assembled in the auditorium, will be able to view the classroom.

Cameras and eight receivers were scheduled to be installed today and a talk-back system will link the classroom, teacher and auditorium. It will be possible for teachers in the auditorium to ask any questions.

Arranged by State

The program has been arranged by Francis E. Almstead, special consultant in educational television with the New York State Education Department.

Television receivers will be furnished through the courtesy of Vincent R. Burns, manager of Montgomery Ward, Kingston, Mr. Moehle said, while cameras and equipment will be supplied by Dage Television Division,

Honduran Forces Kill 35

Situation Tense Over Nicaragua Border Rift

Managua, Nicaragua, May 2 (AP)—President Luis Somoza and other top Nicaraguan officials held emergency talks throughout the night on the first fatal clash reported in Nicaragua's bitter border dispute with Honduras.

Somoza, who took office yesterday for a six-year term, told an inauguration audience of 45,000 that Honduran forces attacked the village of Mocoron in the frontier zone, killing 25 Nicaraguan soldiers. Officials later said 35 Nicaraguans had been killed.

Planes Strafe Post

Somoza said five Honduran planes strafed a Nicaraguan post during the attack. He warned that if Honduras continued what he called its "aggressive" attitude, the "whole of Nicaragua and the National Guard will know how to defend its national integrity."

A statement from the Honduran government in Tegucigalpa said Mocoron had been "recaptured" by Honduran forces and there has been casualties.

Managua Uneasy

Tension gripped Managua. Radio stations broadcast denunciations of Honduras far into the night and reported the names of volunteers for military duty. Youths raced through the streets in a wave of patriotic fervor.

Somoza held conferences with his brother, army chief of staff General Anastasio Somoza Jr., other high ranking military officers and cabinet members. He also met with U. S. Ambassador Thomas E. Whelan.

Russia Is Challenged On Pledges

Adenauer Urges Reds Match Bonn

Bonn, Germany, May 2 (AP)—The United States assured its Atlantic allies today it intends to carry out 1957 defense plans in full.

Secretary of State Dulles told the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization he was conveying to them the personal decision of President Eisenhower, as given Dulles before he left Washington.

Decision Is Ike's

Dulles said the President instructed him to tell the NATO Council no changes whatsoever are contemplated in American plans as disclosed to NATO last December. This means the United States will not follow the recent example of Britain, which is cutting its forces in Europe and will reduce its armed forces by 50 per cent in the next five years.

The NATO ministers opened a three-day session with a brief public meeting at Bad Godesberg, followed by a closed session at the West German foreign ministry. Dulles spoke to the closed session and his statements were reported by persons who attended.

Sees Red Propaganda

Dulles referred to fears that Britain's decision might touch off a chain reaction among the other NATO allies. He said this was not so in the case of the United States, although his country, like Britain, is placing increased reliance on the deterrent powers of atomic weapons.

The secretary said Russia is in the midst of a propaganda campaign to prevent the west from improving its defensive position.

"It would be folly to weaken our defenses only on the basis of Soviet promises," the secretary was quoted as saying. He said there must be adequate control and inspection to verify and check the fulfillment of Russian disarmament promises.

The speaker at the opening session was West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who challenged the Soviet Union to match West Germany's pledges of 1954 not to produce atomic, bacteriological or chemical weapons, and to accept strict and permanent control of all armaments.

Would Reduce Danger

"I am convinced that every nation would follow the Russian example and the danger of atomic war would be a thing of the past." the West German government chief told the opening session of a three-day meeting of the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers.

But Adenauer said that in contrast to West Germany's pledges in the 1954 Western European Union (WEU) Treaty, the Soviets have blocked every western disarmament proposal by refusing control and inspection of arms.

The chancellor also asserted that recent Russian warnings to NATO members and their allies about the dangers of nuclear warfare overlook the simple fact that "such war can be unleashed only by Soviet attack."

Offers Best Hope

West Germany, he continued, is ready to make its full contribution to the NATO defense shield. That shield, said Adenauer, under present conditions offers the best hope of avoiding "the Apocalyptic fate of modern war."

Citing criticism that NATO's forces are inadequate to deal with the Soviet Union's immense military power, Adenauer said NATO's forces assuredly are inadequate for waging a war of aggression.

"But it (NATO) is not meant

West Hurley Residents Appeal Joining Onteora

An appeal has been taken to the commissioner of education by a group of West Hurley residents, seeking to review the vote taken on April 6 when the voters of the school district voted 161 to 143 to annex with Onteora School.

At that time there were 313 votes cast, nine of which were declared void.

Notice of the appeal has been served on the trustees of the district and on the commissioner of education. The appeal is based on the assumption that among the irregularities of the election was the voting of persons not qualified to vote. At the election none of the voters was challenged.

Following an order of the Commissioner of Education, an election was held on April 6 at which time the proposition of whether or not the district should become annexed to Onteora. The proposition was carried.

Immediately after the election it was stated an appeal would be taken but the service of the papers on the trustees and the commissioner of education was not completed until this week.

Some of the residents of the area seek to become affiliated with the Kingston school system, but the vote taken affirmed the proposition to join Onteora.

Fire Damage Is Reported Heavy at Rhinecliff Home

The two-story frame home of Rodger Cole of Rhinecliff was heavily damaged by fire of apparently undetermined origin Wednesday afternoon.

According to a brother, Roswell Cole, the house was "pretty well burned out." The whole west side of the home and the roof were reported destroyed.

Mr. Cole said the home "couldn't be replaced for $25,000." The owner reportedly carried "some insurance."

The brother said the fire was believed to have been started by sparks from burning railroad ties near the New York Central Railroad tracks back of the home. Some railroad men were reportedly burning the old ties at the time.

According to Roswell Cole, his brother had left his house about 12:30 p. m. to go to the local post office. Everything was all right at that time. When he returned about 1 p. m. he found the outside of his home involved in flames. His fire detection device was also ringing. Neighbors had already called the Rhinecliff and Rhinebeck Fire Departments.

Roswell told The Freeman that the railroad employes had been "burning ties all morning" despite complaints of residents of the vicinity.

Neighbors managed to salvage most of the clothing and some furniture.

The fire was under control within an hour and a half. The brother said firemen had done "a very good job" in handling the situation.

Hearing Is Resumed Before Heffernan On Controversy Over Plattekill Creek

Hearings on the Plattekill Creek controversy between the village of Saugerties and a number of residents along the creek below the village reservoir at Blue Mountain, have been resumed before Official Referee Christopher Heffernan. Several hearings have been held over a period of several months. The matter was temporarily held in abeyance due to the illness of Referee Heffernan.

Some 40 property owners claim they are being deprived of the minimum flow of the creek since the village of Saugerties began supplying Glasco with water back in 1950. The residents along the creek seek to have the village guarantee them a minimum flow of water during low water periods. They claim the village never acquired water rights from them and seek to collect damages or have a minimum flow guaranteed. Claims of over a half million dollars have been filed against the village.

The claimants bring an "inverse" condemnation proceeding to enjoin the village from taking the water from the creek unless water rights are acquired and payment is made to them in the same manner as though the village originally brought condemnation proceedings to acquire the riparian rights.

Morris Rosenblum and John E. Egan represent the majority of the property owners. The village is represented by the village attorney and N. LeVan Haver.

Claimants allege the village

CEMENTON WOMAN HURT—Mrs. Lena Lindorfer, 59, of Box 88, Cementon, who was injured when struck by a car at Fair and Pearl streets yesterday afternoon is assisted, pending arrival of an ambulance, by men who were near the scene. She was reported in fair condition at the Benedictine Hospital today. A police report at 1:51 p. m., said Mrs. Lindorfer was struck by a car owned and operated by Karl W. Schnell, 56, of RD 4, Box 186, as it was headed south on Fair street and turning left into Pearl street. She was taken in a Schultz ambulance to the hospital for treatment of hip and knee injuries. Interchange Map Shown on Page 17

A map showing the city's traffic interchange pattern of the proposed arterial route spur appears on page 17.

Construction of the spur, which will extend northwestward from the city to the Route 28 thruway interchange is due to start in the summer.

Elimination of the Washington avenue viaduct and replacement of the narrow Esopus creek bridge are scheduled as a later phase of the project.

Pack 19 Revives Swiss Family Robinson Story

A revival of the story of Swiss Family Robinson, the attainment of a Webelos badge—the highest honor in advancement, and a graduation ceremony, marked the April pack meetings of Cub Pack 19, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Swiss Family Robinson theme of the month was planned by the Mino, Schomer, and Hogan families. During den meetings the cub scouts fashioned the various implements utilized by the Robinson family in the famous story, and these were displayed at the pack meetings along with skits following the general story.

Awarded Webelos

Cub Scout David Godbey of Den 3 was awarded the Webelos rank—"the Eagle of Cub Scouting,"—and Cub Scout Ronald Rittie of Den 3 was graduated into Boy Scout Troop 9 of the Redeemer Lutheran Church. The graduating cub scout was received by Scoutmaster William Daum.

Flag ceremonies were in charge of Dens 1 and 6, with Dens 1 and 4 serving refreshments.

Den Mother's Certificates of Appreciation were awarded to retiring Den Mothers Beatrice Connelly and Lillian Rittie. Den Mothers Lucille Bonomo and Nancy Wells were awarded service stars and perfect attendance pins, and Committeeman Michael Bonomo received a two-year service star. Den Chiefs cords were presented to Boy Scouts John Schleede, Douglas Eighmey, and James Herdman.

Coming events for Pack 19 list a parade in Saugerties on May 4, participation in the Memorial Day parade in Kingston, placing of flags on veterans' graves for the sponsoring VFW institution, summer den meeting trips, and the annual Mother's Day pilgrimage to the Benedictine Hospital.

April Awards

Awards for the month of April were:

Stresses 'How To'

New York (AP)—Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, author and pastor of the Marble Collegiate Church, says his aim has been "to stress the 'how to' techniques of religion as much as 'what for' objectives." "To those earnest critics who choose to concentrate more exclusively on the theological speculations on the judgment of God or the morality of man, I say 'Bless you, your good works are needed'," Dr. Peale told a news conference on the publication of his new book, "Stay Alive All Your Life."

Briefly Told

Syracuse, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Harry H. Farmer, a former Syracuse mayor and judge, died yesterday. He was 85.

Farmer served as mayor during the 1920s. At one time he had been associate judge of the City Court of Special Sessions and in 1937 was appointed the city's first traffic court judge.

Farmer served in the Spanish-American War and World War 1.

Albany, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Approximately 100,000 persons turned out last night for May Day parades in Albany and Utica.

Police Chief John P. Tuffy of Albany estimated that between 70,000 and 75,000 marchers and onlookers were on hand for the 11th annual parade sponsored in the Albany Roman Catholic Diocese by the College of St. Rose.

The college's alumnae sponsored the parade in Utica. Police said the turnout was between 25,000 and 30,000.

Oneida, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—A heart attack has been listed as the cause of the death of a fisherman who toppled from a small boat into Oneida Lake.

Harry Chappell, 54, of nearby Sconodoa, at first was believed to have drowned yesterday. Dr. William Lanyon, Madison county pathologist, said after an autopsy that death was due to a heart attack.

State police said Chappell, a machinist, had been fishing from a boat with his brother-in-law, Floyd Johnson, 50, of Oneida. They said Chappell was standing when a wave struck the boat and he fell overboard.

Albany, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Grandma Moses says she likes to do things other than paint—watch television and read, for example.

The famed 96-year-old artist said so yesterday as she joined Gov. Harriman, 65, and Dr. Henry MacCracken, 76, president emeritus of Vassar College, in making a film short for television newsreels.

Before the cameras ground, however, Grandma told the governor during rehearsal that she was "too lazy" to do anything besides paint.

Mrs. Moses came to Albany from her farm home at Eagle Bridge to help the governor launch "Senior Citizens Month."

Geneva, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Three fraternities at Hobart College last night lost their social privileges for the rest of the year.

Dean Walter Durfee said Sigma Phi, Sigma Chi and Beta Sigma Tau were forbidden to have any mixed social events in their houses and that members could not attend such events elsewhere on the campus until next January.

Durfee said the fraternities had violated "college regulations for conduct on campus and in the community." He did not elaborate.

Harriman Denies He Invited Exiled Archbishop Here

Albany, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman denies that he invited Greek Archbishop Makarios to visit New York state.

"I did not invite the archbishop over here," he said at a news conference yesterday.

A letter sent by Harriman in Mid-April to the exiled leader of Greek Cypriots stirred up excited controversy abroad. It said:

"Along with your many friends, I want to express my joy and gratification at the news of your release. I hope that the state of New York will shortly have the opportunity of extending to you its hospitality and warm welcome."

When asked what the message was, if not an invitation, the governor replied: "The statement stands for itself."

He stressed that the letter said "I hope."

In New York city, the Turkish Information Service said 40,000 cables of protest had been sent to Harriman. He acknowledged receiving about 1,000.

Until yesterday, Harriman had declined to comment on the controversy the letter had caused.

Grant Mitchell Dies

Los Angeles, May 2 (AP)—Grant Mitchell, 82, veteran actor who made his stage debut in 1902 and appeared in scores of stage plays and movies, died Wednesday. He was born in Columbus, Ohio.

SCHOOL SAFETY PATROL

To honor the 35,000 boys and girls who serve on the school patrols in the state, Governor Harriman has proclaimed the period from Saturday, May 4 to May 11 as School Safety Patrol Week.

Patrol members, who range in age from 10 to 14, stand guard at elementary school crossings directing other children to cross streets safely on their way to and from school. This is the 1st anniversary of the organization of the school patrols in the state and since that time traffic deaths among school children from 5 to 14 years of age have decreased more than 70 per cent, although motor vehicle registrations have increased 173 per cent.

The governor in his proclamation calls upon all, old and young alike, to cooperate with the patrols at all times and to the fullest extent to keep traffic accidents involving our children at an absolute minimum.

Patrol members wear white Sam Browne belts and AAA badges and are a familiar part of the American scene.

We congratulate these young people and express our gratitude to them for their grand civic performance.

KEY TO ACCIDENTS

Accidents are often not accidents at all. This paradox offers a clue to the most promising means of reducing the toll of death, injury and property loss in industry and on the road.

There is a growing body of evidence that many accidents are caused, not by failure to "be careful," but because of psychological motivation that often is unconscious. The aggressive drive that is in all of us, complicated by frustrations and various kinds of personal trouble, often causes accidents that cannot really be explained in any other way.

This unconscious basis for many accidents suggests that much of our effort at safety education is missing the target. This was pointed out recently by Dr. Harry Levinson, director of the Menninger Foundation's division of industrial health, who said:

"Again and again, in one form or another, we keep telling people 'Don't have accidents' or 'Be careful—your life is at stake,' or we conduct ever larger contests, put up ever more colorful posters, think up ever more clever slogans, and hold ever more redundant conferences which yield ever more pious platitudes."

There is no sense in concentrating all our fire on the rational mind when it is the unconscious mind that is actually at the seat of troubles that cause accidents. To channel the aggressive spirit into useful activity, to reduce frustration and resentment at home and on the job, to improve the morale of workers—these are potentially fruitful new ways of curbing accidents. More knowledge about what motivates people can become one of the most effective tools in safety education.

MORNING TRANQUILIZER

Most Americans seem to begin almost all their days in a hurry. They get up just a little too late to allow themselves enough time to get ready for the day's activities. They dress in a hurry, eat breakfast in a hurry, rush off to work as if the devil were in pursuit. The cumulative effect can only be bad.

This can all be changed by the exercise of a little discipline. Rising a bit earlier, getting under way at a more leisurely pace, may be difficult—especially at first. But it can pay off in handsome dividends.

One of the pleasantest things a man can do is to have a quiet look around outdoors before plunging into the day's merry-go-round. It is good to sniff the morning air, to look up at the sky and see the changing pattern of the branches, to listen to birdsong if it be only the twittering of sparrows. Five minutes of that builds up a reservoir of calm that can do wonders hours later when life seems full to the brim of problems and frustrations.

That quiet time in the morning is a better tranquilizer, in many cases, than anything that comes out of a box of pills.

Spring is that season of the year when the lady of the house gets a new hat and the man gets out of the way before he can be enlisted to help with spring cleaning.

ENEMY PROPERTY

Whenever enemy property is seized, it leads to something of a scandal because a new vested interest is established in bargain-counter ownership. However, wars do disclose how much of the United States is foreign-owned and who the owners are.

It would appear that Herman J. Abs, who is President of the Society to Promote the Protection of Private Investments of Cologne, objects to the fact "that the property of thousands of private persons is still being withheld from them 12 years after the end of the war." In a word, he regards the seizure of enemy alien property during the war years as a temporary measure to be corrected as soon as the war is over.

Unfortunately during a modern war, there are no private persons. Modern wars are all-inclusive and Germany played a principal role in making war total. Therefore Abs' argument, while raising certain humane criteria, comes with poor grace, even from a West German. When German property, held in the United States during the past two wars, was seized and some of it sold to American citizens over the bargain counter as enemy alien property, it was a justifiable act of war and there can be no reason why Americans should concern themselves too much about it. History is continuous and therefore Germany cannot reject altogether responsibility for what was done when Hitler ruled the country. It was not the German people who overthrew Hitler; it was the Allied armies and American production.

Abs said:

". . . Nasser has shown the world how easy it is to get away with confiscating not only property of private British, French and Israeli citizens, but also property of citizens of other nations just because those nations dared to vote against Egypt in the United Nations. He simply copied the United States Trading with the Enemy Act."

But Egypt was not at war with any country nor was any country at war with Egypt except Israel. Egypt maintains a state of belligerency with Israel; Israel would like to hold a peace conference with Egypt. Beyond that no state of war existed or exists. Therefore, Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal was an act of theft which in the parlance of international relations might be called confiscation but is never justified without due process. Such due process exists in the World Court at The Hague.

Nasser's seizure of Greek, Italian and other businesses in Cairo, some of them existing there for centuries, or at least generations, cannot be justified on any grounds, except the brutal Bolshevik doctrine that a revolution justifies all its acts by the flexible law of necessity. In a word, revolution postpones all moral considerations. It is the same law that guided Hitler and that still holds in East Germany.

War, however, often discloses that the enemy has infiltrated the economy of a nation with the object of weakening it in advance of actual conflict. Such an infiltration is taking place in the United States at the present time at such an acceleration that all the agencies of American government find themselves frustrated by it. It could be that analysis would show that a concerted effort of Europeans is being made so to invade the ownership of the American economy that we shall be paying for a war aimed at our destruction. Such a suicidal act is intolerable. Those Congressional committees now investigating these activities and Louis Lefkowitz, Attorney General of New York State, who has brought cases involving two Swiss banks into the courts, may uncover not only the method of operations of this infiltration but its motivations. Lefkowitz apparently believes that he has evidence of trans-Iron Curtain activity.

Abs, of course, is a special pleader who came to this country in 1955 to see whether he could not handle this situation favorably for West Germany. He has one solid argument for his case, and that one is apparently not being used. His argument could be that as we are pouring so much money in West Germany, we may save ourselves something if we settled some of these problems. But usually Europeans, seeking American financial aid, employ only the plus, never the minus, sign. It might be of advantage to discover how much Germany, West or East, has invested in American industrial enterprises since 1945. Such investments would come through Swiss and American banks.

That Body of Yours

A NEW HELP IN RADIATION SCARRING

We have all seen how often a new drug or method of treatment is discovered for one disease and then found to be effective in helping many others not apparently related. One example is insulin, developed for diabetes, and then found helpful in increasing appetite, in treatment of mental disorders, and several other conditions.

Now we are told of a new use for prednisone (Meticorten) which has been of so much help in rheumatoid arthritis because of its anti-inflammatory action. Dr. J. B. Mathewson has published in New York State Journal of Medicine a preliminary report on the preventive action of prednisone in minimizing dermatitis (inflammation of the skin) and scarring following radiation (X-ray) treatment for skin cancer. Prednisone seemed to lesson radiation damage and the scarring effect usually seen after such radiation was almost eliminated. The final cosmetic results were excellent and the cancers were apparently cured.

In each of the cases treated, the skin reaction to radiation was much milder than usual. Instead of the acute redness two weeks after X-ray, there was only faintness in 15 patients and none at all in one. Healing was complete in all cases after six to eight weeks.

Prednisone was administered early in the first cases treated, that is, patients usually received two or three tablets daily for two weeks prior to and during radiation therapy. For purposes of investigation, seven of the patients were given prednisone only when the patient first noticed redness from X-ray. In two cases this occurred on the seventeenth day after the first X-ray. When the drug was given before redness appeared and continued in adequate dosage during the course of X-ray, the period of inflammation was shorter than in the case where it was withheld until redness started.

Of course, as mentioned before, this is a preliminary report but there appears to be a definite relationship between radiation and the corticosteroids (such as prednisone, cortisone). Dr. Mathewson said that "In our experience prednisone with its anti-inflammatory action seems to diminish both the radiation reaction and subsequent scarring when X-ray is used for the treatment of cancers of the skin."

We will look for further reports on this new help against scarring when X-ray therapy has to be used to treat conditions such as cancer as it will remove a great deal of fear which many cannot help feeling when faced with this form of treatment.

"I Want to Trade This In---For an Older One"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA) — Serious as the situation in the little Hashemite kingdom of Jordan has appeared in the last few weeks, there is now some basis for belief it won't end in all-out war.

A Middle East war could, of course happen accidentally.

But careful appraisals now being made in Washington indicate that since nobody is actually provoking a hot war, it might not come off because nobody wants it.

Cold war threats and incidents are expected to multiply. In the long run, however, this is expected to be another crisis just short of war.

External threats against Jordan come principally from Israel on the west and Syria on the north. Syria is backed by Egypt, but President Nasser's forces cannot get at a Jordanian war except by sea to Syria or across Israel or Saudi Arabia.

Young King Hussein of Jordan has the support of both King Saud of Saudi Arabia to his south and his cousin, King Faisal of Iraq, to his east.

The armed forces of both Iraq and Saudi Arabia are rated as superior to Syrian forces, in spite of about 40 million dollars' worth of Communist arms aid to Syria.

THOUGH SYRIAN TROOPS are reported to have crossed their border into Jordan, they are not believed to constitute a direct threat.

The real danger comes from Syrian-inspired disorders.

The Communist apparatus under Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Sarraj, Syrian army intelligence chief, is believed to be effective for agitation propaganda, riots, terrorism, bombings and even murder if necessary. But it isn't rated a war machine.

The Communist hope appears to be that disorders will cause the downfall of King Hussein. This would give other powers an excuse to move in. Such a development almost took place on April 14. It was prevented only by the young king's display of authority.

King Hussein's chances of survival are now rated no better than 50-50. He appears to have the British-trained army—half Bedouin, half Arab—supporting him.

Though British subsidies ended in March, his troops have been paid this far, perhaps with Saudi Arabian money. Hussein is safe as long as his army stays with him.

THE MAIN TROUBLE is that Jordan has no resources to make it self-sustaining. It isn't quite as big as Kentucky and is mostly desert.

Its 1,500,000 population includes 500,000 refugees from Palestine, barely existing in camps on a United Nations allowance of eight cents a day, mostly from the U. S. This group provides the discontended mobs the leftists use for riots.

If these refugees could be resettled in other Arab lands, Jordan's worst problem would be over.

Even so, there is no logical justification for Jordan's continued existence—except to keep its neighbors from dividing it up.

If Syria should move against Jordan, it would be natural to expect Israeli forces to move east to the Jordan River, occupying that part of eastern Palestine now under King Hussein's control.

In any conflict between Syrian and Israeli troops, military experts believe the Syrians would get a worse shellacking than Israel has twice given the Egyptians.

THE FINAL RIDDLE in this complex situation is what Russia will do about it. Nobody really knows the answer to that.

One estimate is that the Russians would not go to war in the area, even if the United States were to drop a regiment of Marines in Jordan to preserve it.

The Russians would be expected to write notes and make speeches and propaganda out of that. They might send experts and supplies and do everything they could to keep the situation stirred up—short of actual war.

That is, according to this estimate—they would not send Russian troops or "volunteers" unless they believed this was the only way to save their prestige.

So They Say..

If they want to act like tough adults, they are going to be treated that way.
—John R. Wise, Rockford, Ill., school principal on pupil's striking teacher.

White House Talks Urged To Unify Republican Party

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 2 — President Eisenhower has a big job to do right away as the leader of the Republican party in the nation. There are some fundamental truths in politics that are inescapable—and they apply to the Republican party as a whole as well as they do to the President. They may be outlined as follows:

1. The Republican presidential nomination in 1960 will not be worth much to any Republican if the record of the Eisenhower administration cannot be supported by Republicans generally. If the administration proves to be a success, all Republican candidates will want to ride on coattails.

2. Differences of opinion between a President and members of his party in Congress should be threshed out at the White House in a series of conferences with plenty of copies of the 1956 platform handy for reference. It was unanimously adopted only 10 months ago. There are ways that Republicans can express their differences on particular issues without deserting their party leadership.

3. No political party which produces a division during its incumbency wins the subsequent election. The Republican party today, for example, hasn't enough votes to spare in the pivotal states, so it cannot afford the luxury of feuding within its own ranks.

Must Mobilize Energies

4. The Republican party needs to mobilize all its energies to meet the challenges of the radical Democrats who would stifle the system of free enterprise. Most of the Southern states will vote Democratic anyhow in 1958 but the election of more radicals from the North will lessen the strength and influence of the conservative Democrats in Congress. The crucial battle is in the North and West.

5. The Republicans inside and outside Congress, have not organized their offense or their defense to date. They have allowed six months to go by since the November election without unifying their forces and without meeting the day-in-and-day-out sniping by the radical Democrats and their allies in the press. In fact, too many Republicans, instead of being spokesmen for the defendant, have joined the prosecution.

6. Every incumbent Administration is on the defensive because it has the responsibility of taking action each day, whereas its opponents need not say what tehy would do—they merely attack what is being done. The late Franklin D. Roosevelt was one of the few Presidents who recognized that as party leader he should never let down on the attack. His "fireside chats" on the radio kept going throughout his tenure in office the fight against his political opponents and sustained the morale of his own party workers. Mr. Eisenhower has both television and radio available. He doesn't use them enough between campaigns.

Job for President's Staff

7. Every administration has troubles with its own members in Congress. There are always patronage difficulties and failures to consult Senators and Representatives about matters vital to them, especially appointments. A Presidential staff that neglects its homework on politics can wreck a party's chances just as fast as can those members of Congress who attack a President of their own party and stir up dissension publicly.

8. Dissent by a few members of Congress on policies isn't just a quarrel between the White House and those members. It means that millions of voters take sides, become fixed in their positions on public questions, and this in turn stimulates permanent disaffection. Ultimately it results in apathy at the polls, if not a drift of many party members to the opposite party.

9. The "strategists" who inspired the President and members of his entourage and publicize the "modern Republican" concept played into the hands of the common foe — the radical Democrats. For when the White House says, in effect, that the Republican party needs "modernizing" without applying the same term to the Democrats, it gives the Democrats the chance to label the Republicans as outmoded and obsolete. Though little emphasis has been placed on the point, the President is immutable on the essentials of a "dynamic conservatism."

Sees Budget Policy Error

10. The Republicans, both in Congress and in the executive branch, have been clumsy in handling the controversy over the budget. Instead of fixing the blame on rising costs—the inflation which their opponents fostered in their twenty years of rule — the Republicans unwittingly give the impression that the enlarged budget is due to frills desired by the Administration.

11. The President is a harmonizer by nature. What his Administration needs is an "Eisenhower Doctrine" for domestic problems. It needs Republican allies on Capitol Hill as against its political foes. This means more conferences on party strategy to help members of Congress to win elections, but it also means a better system of communicating the facts to the people about how the Administration is trying to meet the challenges of the times.

12. All this reveals the importance of an announcement now that Mr. Eisenhower will take the stump for his party in both the 1958 and 1960 campaigns. He is the elected leader of his party, and the fact that he isn't to be a candidate himself for re-election should strengthen his position in the country. What he says will be believed because he comes before the people as a man without political ambition and as a disinterested exponent of the maximum good for the maximum number. He is still the Republican party's biggest asset.

Own Party Partly to Blame

President Still Undecided On Making Fight for Budget

By JAMES MARLOW
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Washington, May 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower still looks undecided on making a slam-bang fight for his budget and his programs which appear in danger of being massacred in Congress.

He's had four months in 1957 to fight, and he's done very little. With Congress now half over, it's pretty late to start punching. Besides, it's contrary to his political nature. His policy has been to do as little fighting as possible.

Confusion in GOP

But for some of the jeopardy to his budget he can thank the confusion in his own administration.

Just before he returned from his latest vacation this week there were reports — attributed to anonymous close associates—that he was coming back determined to start swinging for what he requested of Congress.

But even after a White House conference with his own Republican congressional leaders yesterday there was still uncertainty about what he'll do and how. He may, but it's not sure, go on television to seek public support for his programs.

See Misrepresentations

James Hagerty, his press secretary, told reporters Eisenhower "feels a great deal of misrepresentation" has been circulated about his budget and he is "going to point it out."

What good is that going to do when some of the Republican leaders who talked with him yesterday—specifically Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader in the House—want Eisenhower's budget cut over his protests?

It would seem that if the President needs to persuade anyone, the place to start is with his own Republicans in Congress. It must have been with unconscious irony that Knowland told reporters when he came out of the White House:

"I think it would be helpful from time to time for the President to go on the air, as well as before his press conferences, to discuss his views."

Helpful to whom? Knowland shows no signs of changing his views. As Senate Republican leader, it might seem Knowland would be fighting for Eisenhower. He has on some issues. But he has repeatedly opposed the President on others.

But he says he has no intention of resigning his Senate leadership to make way for someone who would see eye-to-eye with Eisenhower more often. And it's almost a cinch that Eisenhower, who seems to dread a showdown with Congress, won't ask him to quit.

Eisenhower's troubles with his budget really began in his own administration, either because he can't control those closest to him or because of failure within the administration to decide on a policy and stick to it.

Focuses Attention

On the very day that Eisenhower offered his budget to Congress, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was suggesting it could be cut by several billion dollars. This apparent confusion in the administration focused attention on the budget and was a wide open invitation to Democrats and Republicans alike to start chopping on it.

Humphrey never, under congressional questioning, has said where a dime could be cut. Instead, after Congress started to take away some of the money he asked to run his own department, he wanted part of it restored.

On the very day Eisenhower was saying the budget shouldn't be cut as much as two billion dollars, Treasury Undersectary W. Randolph Burgess was suggesting to Congress it could be reduced that much.

And Secretary of Commerce Weeks, after almost blithely encouraging Congress to ax the budget, went pleading to get back some of the money which Congress, taking him at his word, decided to cut out of commerce department funds.

Off His Back

Baraboo, Wis. (AP)—The phone rang in the office of Sauk County Sheriff James Gavin. "Sheriff," said a woman in a town 50 miles away, "my husband's brother lives up there. Selective Trade Paris, Ky. (AP)—Hamlet Collier Sr. displayed his flaming loyalty recently. After the seat in his truck caught fire, Collier tossed it onto the bed behind the cab and drove almost a mile outside town to the Bourbon County Fire Department. The Paris Fire Department was closer but Collier passed it up. He's an auxiliary fireman on call at the Bourbon county station. "It was just a case of a fireman wanting to patronize his own fire station, commented County Chief Walter Ishmael.

Public Cards

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—Only 16 per cent of the 72 million acres of Arizona is privately owned. The federal government owns about 71 per cent, which is used for Indian reservations, national forests and national parks. The state owns the other 13 per cent, according to the Arizona Department of Mineral Resources.

Benson Reported Ready to Sign For Milk Market

Syracuse, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Benson was reported today ready to sign a combined New York-New Jersey milk marketing order.

The Syracuse Post-Standard said it had learned from Washington that Benson would issue the document in preliminary form within a day or two.

In Washington, an Agriculture Department spokesman said only that no statement in connection with a New York-New Jersey order was issued yesterday.

A combined order would cover the metropolitan New York marketing area, northern New Jersey and eastern and central New York state. Northern New York and the thinly populated south-central section of the state would be excluded.

The newspaper said the preliminary document would give interested parties about two weeks to study and take exceptions to it on the basis of hearings held by the Agriculture Department in 1956 and 1957.

The order would have to be approved in a poll of farmers in the area it covers before taking effect, the newspaper said.

Opposes Single Command

New York, May 2 (AP)—Secretary of Navy Gates says he is opposed to a single combined military service for the nation. At a dinner of the Pennsylvania Club last night, Gates termed the single-service plan "probably the most utter nonsense that has ever been foisted upon the American public." With such an operation, he added, "perhaps the United States would be led into devising a single strategy, and we need alternate strategies."

80 Rand People Are on Computer Project at IBM

A group of approximately 80 members of Rand, Inc., of New York which deals in research and experimental work is now working at the local IBM plant in conjunction with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on an operation program for a computer, it was learned today.

Employes of the corporation have been coming here gradually since last summer. A group of 20 came first and five to 10 at a time have been coming at intervals since then. A group of 15 MIT men are also on the project.

Computing units are made available to the group by IBM. It was indicated that they would remain here for an indefinite period.

Recent inquiries as to school facilities in the area, however, indicated that some or all of the group would be here from this month until at least next October.

Girl Scouts Plan Court Of Awards on May 17

Woodstock, May 2—The Woodstock-West Hurley Neighborhood of Girl Scouts made plans for the Court of Awards, at the final meeting of the season, Monday night at the Woodstock School. The annual Court of Awards, with all Woodstock and West Hurley Girl Scout and Brownie Troops participating, will be held Friday, May 17, at 7:30 p. m., at the Woodstock School.

It was announced that the Brownies and Girl Scouts will parade on Memorial Day, and are asked to meet at the Town Hall at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Theodore Altenritter will have charge of distributing the flags. Mrs. Donald Jackson, troop organizer, reported that there will be need for some new leaders and assistant leaders for next year, starting in September. It is necessary to have leaders, if all the girls interested in being Scouts may do so. There is adequate training offered anyone who may be interested. On May 10 there will be an outdoor camping workshop to be held at Camp Wendy, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. If it rains this will be postponed to May 17. Also there will be a program training course at the home of Mrs. Kirk, Milton, on May 8. All leaders and assistant leaders and anyone interested in becoming a leader are urged to attend. Girl Scouting can be a lifesaver to a lonely newcomer, a housewife with grown children or no children at all. It is a good way to get acquainted, have fun, and do something useful, it was emphasized at the meeting. Anyone who is interested, or who knows anyone who is, are asked to call Mrs. Donald Jackson.

With emphasis this year on fun out-of-doors, it is expected that there will be a large attendance at the Girl Scout Rally to be held at Camp Wendy on May 5, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Some troops are planning to go as a group, and other Girl Scouts are planning to go with their families. Everyone is asked to bring a picnic lunch; coffee, tea, and cold drinks will be provided.

In order to get Camp Wendy ready for the summer camping season, there is much work to be done. It is urgent that fathers and mothers of the Girl Scouts plan to give some time to this project. Kenneth Martin of Woodstock has charge of the work program and will be at Camp Wendy every Saturday and Sunday until the end of June. Volunteers from all over the county are planning to give some time to this work, and fathers and mothers from Woodstock and West Hurley are asked to please contribute time also. If anyone has any questions concerning the project, they are requested to call Mr. Martin or Mrs. Edward Gurland.

Body of Chatham Man Found Today Floating in Creek

The body of Perry Fisher, 54, of Chatham, was found floating in Kinderhook creek, near Valatie early Wednesday afternoon, it was reported today by Claverack state police.

The body is believed to have been in the water for approximately a week.

Mr. Fisher, who reportedly worked on a number of different dairy farms, was found by Albert Mesick of Valatie who notified Constable Joseph Keegan. Mr. Keegan secured the body to the creek bank.

It was reported Mr. Fisher was often away for a week or so and had not been missed.

His body was turned over to the Bond Funeral Home, Valatie.

He was reportedly separated from his wife, Gertrude Van DeWater of 2 Locust street, Chatham. Besides his widow he is survived by two brothers, Raymond of Chatham and Russell of Rochester, Ind.; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Clark of Pittsfield, Mass., and Mrs. Lucille Kendall of Rochester, Ind.; two half-sisters, Mrs. Ethel Fischer of Valparaiso, Ind., and Mrs. Rena Brown of Rochester, Ind; two half-brothers, Roy Fischer of Rochester, Ind.; and Albert Fischer of Clearwater, Utah, and several nieces and nephews.

has been taking an excessive amount of water from the stream at the reservoir dam and they have been deprived of the natural flow of the stream. In dry weather they allege only a trickle of water flows below the dam. The village allegedly has been taking upwards of 1,800,000 gallons of water a day, causing the stream to be depleted along their property. They allege bathing has been spoiled and they have been deprived of their riparian rights. They seek damages for a six-year period during which they have been deprived of water rights and also payment of future riparian rights.

Mt. Marion Cottage Destroyed by Fire

A four-room cottage on the old King's Highway, a quarter mile north of Mt. Marion, burned to the ground this morning in a fire of undetermined origin.

The Mt. Marion Fire Department was summoned at 5:15 a. m. but was unable to save the cottage, which is owned by Herman Schmidt, Box 61, Mt. Marion.

Trooper P. F. Crowley of the Kingston state police and Fire Chief Donald Gaddie of the Mt. Marion fire company are continuing the investigation.

It was reported that the cottage contained a quantity of experimental machinery used in the manufacture of coffee.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear sister, Mrs. Viola Sickler, whom God called to eternal rest May 2, 1955.
My heart still aches with loneliness,
My eyes shed many a tear,
God alone knows how I miss you,
As now ends the 2nd year.
Sister, ALTA

Memoriam

In loving memory of our Mother and Grandmother, Grace S. Longto, who died nine years ago May 2, 1948.
As long as we live we treasure her name
In memory we see her just the same
Deep in our hearts she's with us today
We loved her too dearly to ever forget,

Memoriam

In loving memory of my wife, Viola Sickler, who passed away two years ago today, May 2, 1955.
A precious one from me has gone,
A voice I loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in my home
That never can be filled.
Some day I hope to meet her,
That day I know not when,
To clasp her hand in a better land,
Never to part again.

day that before he leaves office (in 1961) he would like to see a bigger tax reduction than the seven billion dollar cut of three years ago.

However, Eisenhower stressed his belief in the need for heavy spending on defense and foreign aid "as long as there is abroad a predatory force seeking to destroy our form of government."

This was viewed as an indication of the tack he would take in any radio-television appeal for public support for his budget and program, including his embattled foreign aid proposals.

After a White House meeting of Republican Congressional leaders and the President yesterday, newsmen were told there was a general consensus among the group that Eisenhower should make such a public appeal.

Queried later by newsmen, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said such a move is under consideration, but that no final decision has been made. Hagerty said Eisenhower "feels a great deal of misrepresentation" has been spread about his spending budget and that "he is going to point it out."

Today, Chairman Bridges (N.H.) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee said he doubts any such appeal will stop Congress from making "substantial" reductions in the budget.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 2 (AP) — Oils and steels led the stock market to a good advance in active trading early this afternoon.

Key issues rose from fractions to 2 or 3 points.

The oils continued outstanding leaders as they were yesterday with trading heavy in this group. The steel advance was fair but nothing sensational.

The market on average was again moving close to its 1957 high reached in January.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 80 cents to $181.70 with the industrials up $1.40, the rails up 60 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Legislature May

request "careful consideration."

The theory is that this power would aid the committee in its probes.

Favors Hearings

On a related question, Harriman said at first that he would not comment on the committee's public hearings on the Joseph "Socks" Lanza parole case. Then he added that he thought it was "a good thing" to have the hearings.

He said he would await reports of the committee and from his acting investigation commissioner, who also has been probing the Lanza case, before ordering a full investigation of the state's parole system. He said he had not decided yet whether to order a study by a special commissioner or by a "committee of five experts."

The telephone company seeks to raise its monthly rates for home phones by 50 cents, party lines 65 cents and business phones $1.50.

The Public Service Commission is re-hearing the case on the basis of a court decision that it must consider replacement costs of company property—instead of only the lower, original costs—in computing a fair return on investment.

The bill sought by Harriman would change the public service law so that the court decision, in effect, would be nullified.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a pleasant letter from Mrs. Dorothy Semlear of Port Ewen which I enjoyed very much. She starts off with: "My father, a Methodist minister, also the son of a minister and the grandson of a minister, told us when we were little to always tell people nice things about themselves. . ." Mrs. Semlear in a previous note asked about the history of the Skillyput and showed her interest in the history of this locality. This time she enclosed a few lines written by her sister about this column which I appreciate very much. Her sister, who lives out-of-town hopes on one of her visits to see the little model of the Skillyput at our Senate House Museum which facts she learned from this column sent to her by Mrs. Semlear.

From time to time folks ask me, "On what type of material do you get the most response? It seems minor events or human interest stories pertaining to Skillyput, Mary Powell, Kingston Point Park or Rondout seem to lead in interest. Rondout with its D and H Canal history, its water-front, its ice-crops, its ship-building, cement, bluestone, shopping area when both ferries were running, all built up original fortunes and is rich in local history.

I often wonder if Rondout did not incorporate with Kingston in 1872, which it did not want to do because Rondout was richer in population and worldly goods by far back in those days, what would have happened. No doubt Kingston would have grown on its own, and Rondout having its own mayor and officials might have fought independently for its share of good things and perhaps prospered much better. What was the saying: "He who travels alone, travels fastest." At the time the Mansion house was known as one of the best hotels of those days around here and persons of importance were often brought there for official occasions, now that we are incorporated they are not even driven down Broadway through Rondout. How times have changed.

The famous Sampson Opera House stood where The Freeman building is today. In those days nationally and internationally famous entertainers appeared on its stage. Of course those were also the days of the Liscomb Opera House and later it became the Orpheum Theatre which had packed houses for vaudeville shows and every so often had stars of the Broadway stage and later silent picture days on the stage. When I was a little girl, I do not remember a parade which did not come past our drug store, down at 46 Broadway. The Webers who have the big building and porch across the street always watched the parade from the porch. Today Rondout is like Cinderella, we are forgotten by the arrangement committees who bring officials of importance to town, only when there are drives for money do they find us. I wonder what kind of a map they use.

I remember the formal opening of the Rondout Bridge, Governor Miller spoke at the Bridge opening at Abeel street, and every other Governor I can remember always was driven downtown. I do hope the arrangement committee will arrange during the formal opening of the Hudson River Bridge that the officials are driven down Broadway. It is not difficult with everything being motorized nowadays.

City Employes Are To Hear Talk on Social Security

Frank Casey of the State Civil Service Employes Association is scheduled to explain the new social security measure affecting municipal employes at a meeting of city and county groups May 9, it was announced today.

The meeting to be held in the Common Council chamber, city hall, is due to start at 7 p. m.

Leon Studt, president of the Ulster County Chapter, Civil Service Employes Association said, "This is a subject in which everyone should be vitally interested, and we urge all to attend."

The speaker, he said, will answer "any and all questions" on the measure which gives the opinion to municipal employes to add social security to any pension plan which they now have.

The Ulster County Chapter of the association is sponsoring the meeting.

Crack in the Window

Charleston, W. Va. (AP)—Mrs. Ernie Jones said she heard the crash of glass and looked up to see a horse staring at her—his head through her shattered picture window. Mrs. Jones threw her shoe at the horse and he backed out. The animal had run away from a nearby farmer.

Proposed Junior High Questions and Answers

This material has been prepared under authorization of the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston. Its purpose is to acquaint the voters of Kingston with pertinent information relative to the proposed junior high school and to answer any questions they may have concerning its need, cost, construction and location.

QUESTION: Would the construction of the new junior high school mean that major repairs and improvements would not be made in the downtown schools?

ANSWER: No. The budget for next year provides for improvements and repairs to all downtown schools as well as to all other schools in the city. For example: No. 2 school will be completely equipped with venetian blinds this year. No. 3 School will have new maple floors in all its rooms by this September. In addition new heating facilities will be installed in four of its classrooms. No. 4 School's cafeteria will have a new floor, new tables a new refrigerator and a new sink. All the classrooms in the school will also be repainted. No. 5 School will have new heating facilities installed in the several rooms where they are needed.

QUESTION: Is the present Dietz Stadium property sufficiently large enough on which to build the new junior high school?

ANSWER: No. Certain properties along Joy's Lane will have to be purchased to provide parking space and a drive in front of the new building.

QUESTION: What piece of property on Joy's Lane will have to be purchased?

ANSWER: The present Macmillan property and a garden lot owned at present by Mrs. Green.

QUESTION: Will any additional property along Joy's Lane be acquired by the Board of Education for use for the new junior high school at any time in the future?

ANSWER: No. The Dietz Stadium property plus the land mentioned in the foregoing answer as needed to be purchased for the school site will be all that is needed.

QUESTION: Does the construction of the new junior high school on the Dietz Stadium site mean that the Dietz Stadium will no longer be available for use by other than school organizations?

ANSWER: No. The stadium will always be available for use for all organizations as it has been in the past. The construction of the new school will be in no way affect the use of the stadium or the adjacent parking lot. The building itself will be erected on the elevated section of land north of the ball field and which is now not in use.

QUESTION: Is there any valid opposition to the Dietz Stadium site because of water and sewage difficulties?

ANSWER: No. Upon recommendation of the Kingston Planning Commission and with their approval $40,000 has been allocated for this service. The $40,000 is their estimate and the school architect's estimate as an ample sum of money to provide adequate storm water and sewage disposal.

Slate Pre-Cana Series Preparing Engaged Couples

A Pre-Cana series of conferences for couples of Ulster and Sullivan counties engaged to be married is being organized by the Rev. James V. Keating at St. Joseph's Church Sunday, May 19 at 2:30 p. m., Tuesday, May 21 at 8 p. m. and Thursday, May 23 at 8 p. m.

The opportunity of preparing for their forthcoming marriage is being offered to engaged couples by the Family Life Bureau of the Archdiocese of New York.

To Train Young People

Pre-Cana, which takes its name from the wedding feast at which Christ performed His first miracle, is currently associated with conferences training young people for the married state. The May series is only the latest in a series of Pre-Canas held in Ulster county.

The opening session May 19 will be conducted by the Rev. Jame Lover, CSsR, of Esopus Seminary, who will speak on the "Nature of Marriage" and the "Sacrament of Matrimony."

Tuesday evening two doctors will discuss with the young couples the medical aspects of marriage, while a panel of married couples under the direction of Father Keating will close out the series Thursday night with their animadversions on the practical side of the married state.

Schedule Discussion

Dr. Gerald Gorman, Dr. Loretta Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steuding, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Masterson, all of Kingston, participated actively in last October's Pre-Cana. Discussion periods will be part of the three day series and the rite of marriage itself will be explained to the participants immediately prior to the blessing of the engagement rings.

An invitation is extended to all engaged couples in Ulster and Sullivan counties, particularly those who intend to be married in 1957. No prior registration is necessary, but additional information on this recent Pre-Cana may be obtained by calling Father Keating.

Urges Areas to Trade Educational Ideas

Ithaca, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—A Cornell University professor says there is a need for exchange of education ideas in communities.

Prof. Robin M. Williams Jr., chairman of the sociology and anthropology department, said yesterday that most communities were made up of groups with differing ideas and beliefs about education.

"Out first task is to know the facts and to be sure these facts are known in all parts of the community," he said at the 31st Annual Institute of the State Parent-Teacher Assn.

Grant Venn, superintendent of schools in Corning, said teachers and the administrative staffs of schools "must be given time to study ways of teaching, defining goals and determining better ways of educating children."

Marvin D. Glock, director of the Bureau of Testing and Service at Cornell, said community school problems could be solved by "strong and continuous leadership in the school."

The four-day meeting, attended by approximately 600 persons, ends today.

Kidnap Trial Delayed

New York, May 2 (AP)—The trial of two men and two youths on charges of kidnaping and raping an 18-year-old Harrison, N. Y., girl last Jan. 19 was postponed yesterday until May 21 by Federal Judge Richard H. Levet. The four are: Vincent J. Marmion, 22, of 92 View street, Byram, Conn.; William Tomonto, 24, of Port Chester, N. Y.; Rocco John Lofaro, 15, of 65 Palmer Place, Port Chester; and, Frank S. Lennon, 17, of 101 Haseco avenue, also Port Chester.

More on U. S. Payroll

Washington, May 2 (AP)—The federal payroll increased by 2,470 persons in March to a total of 2,392,987. This was reported today by the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Expenditures. Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), the committee chairman, said the major increases were in the Treasury, Post Office, Agriculture, Interior, Commerce, and Health, Education and Welfare Departments. He said increases in the Agriculture, Interior and Treasury Departments "were largely seasonal."

Heavy Subjects

Carbondale, Ill. (AP)—On campus, Southern Illinois University geology students are known as soreheads. Their department is housed in a basement. Maximum clearance in six feet. Pipes in some places dip lower than four. But staff and students have kept their heads and will be moved to roomier quarters next fall.

Ask Flag Display For Saugerties VFW Loyalty Day

Every American family and every American place of business should own an American flag and display it on all proper holidays, said Valmore F. Carpenter, Loyalty Day chairman of Post No. 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Mr. Carpenter said that he has requested Saugerties Mayor George P. Holmes to call for such display Saturday when the Veterans of Foreign Wars will observe Loyalty Day in Saugerties.

Thousands Participate

He pointed out that this observance now ranks with the celebration of Memorial Day and Independence Day in importance because of the thousands of communities all over the United States which hold patriotic and other demonstrations to mark the occasion.

Having received recognition from President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Congress of the United States in 1955, Loyalty Day now ranks among the top patriotic events of the year, especially from an angle of participation, Mr. Carpenter pointed out.

"It is his earnest hope that every home and place of business in the town of Saugerties will display the American Flag May 4, Loyalty Day," he said.

New Role for Price

New York (AP) — Gerald Price, a throaty baritone, is going back to the show in which he first won Broadway's attention—but in a different role. Price appeared in a minor role in "The Threepenny Opera" when it began a fabulous run in 1954 in a Greenwich Village theater. Soon after he was tapped for the Broadway hit, "Fanny," and played it two years. "Fanny" has closed now but "The Threepenny Opera" is still running, and Price has been signed to take over the leading role of highwayman Macheath.

Parents Night Is Held by Scouts At Stone Ridge

Boy Scout Troop 16 of Stone Ridge recently entertained their parents during a regular troop meeting.

John Van Demark opened the program with a pledge to the flag and 12 Scouts presented a candlelight ceremony highlighting the points of the Scout law. The welcome was by Scoutmaster Carlton L. Deyo, who served as master of ceremonies.

Guests included Scoutmaster Elmore Yallum of Troop 5, Lester Sharkin, assistant; Scoutmaster Ralph Shapiro, of Troop 12, Robert Burnett, senior patrol leader and Jeff Boice, a Scout of Troop 26.

A ceremony comprising the assembly of the Scout badge was presented Explorer Albert Davis and Carl Anderson.

At the Court of Honor, Mr. Sharkin presented the second class award to Douglas Lyons. Peter Knudsen, Explorer advisor of Troop 16, awarded the rank of first class to Robert Murphy and presented the following merit badges: Firt aid, Keith Knudsen, Albert Davis and Anthony Causa; Cooking, Albert Davis; Reading, Albert Davis and James Ostrander; Home repairs, John Civill and citizenship in the home, John Van Demark.

Mr. Shapiro awarded the star badge to Anthony Causa and Albert Davis. Their mothers were presented with pins.

Three boys, who had previously advanced to a higher rank, presented their mothers with pins. They are Garry Thompson, advanced to second class; Warren Drew to first class and Keith Knudsen to star. Skits were presented by two patrols, the Apache and Panther.

In a special ceremony, Scoutmaster Deyo installed the junior officers of the troop and presented them with their badge of office. The Panther Patrol, under the direction of Anthony Causa, exhibited a model campsite which the patrol undertook as a project for February. The Apache patrol displayed their project.

Leaders of Troops 5 and 12 were presented with plaques. An Indian ritual dance was performed by Jeff Boice. Camp Tri-Mount slides were shown. Robert Burnett was narrator. Other Scouts of Troop 16 who attended were Armand Hoppe, Robert Larsen, Robert Everett, Otto Scherrieble and Richard Wrights. Refreshments were served by the junior leaders of the troop.

Hasbrouck Park Area School Locale Subject of CA Today

This material has been submitted by the committee on education of the Kingston Civic Association.

William Yates, chairman, referring to the series prepared by the Kingston Board of Education, said, "We believe that some of the statements do not include enough information and ask that you print our views so that your readers may have both sides of the story."

In 1946 the citizens of lower Kingston were promised a junior high school comparable to the Washington School.

This school was to be located at Hasbrouck Park and a school was designed — architects fees were paid.

Hasbrouck Park has almost unlimited space for such a school and is located outside of the congested business district. Unlimited sewage facilities could be reasonably provided.

The Kingston Board of Education now proposes to build a school at Deitz Stadium and will have to condemn some privately owned land to provide the necessary area.

The proposed Deitz school is extravagant in conception and poorly located.

It has not been definitely established that a new school is needed. No new school should be built until the consolidation issue is decided and future enrollment can be properly established.

$2,667,500.00 is a lot of money —why should the taxpayers of Kingston agree to assume this additional burden in light of the above facts?

Express Drivers Return

New York, May 2 (AP)—Railway Express Agency drivers who have been on strike since April 23 in New York city, Long Island and Hudson County, N. J., were returning to work today. The agency announced that consequently a nine-day-old embargo of the movement of express freight has been lifted. The back-to-work movement started with the 8 a. m. shift.

St. Paul's Church Schedules Final Mission Service

Paul and Raymond Fitchner of Chichester with their horns will lead the closing mission service at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck avenue tonight at 8 o'clock, it was announced by the Rev. Olney E. Cook, pastor.

The special music, in addition to the horns will include a solo by Charles Klothe "To Do the Father's Will" by Griggs. There will also be a duet "Waiting on Jesus," sung by Mr. Klothe and Pastor Cook.

Sing Favorite Hymns

At inspiration time favorite hymns which have been selected by the members and friends of the congregation will be used. The Rev. Lloyd A. Berg, missioner, will use as his closing message "Open the Door Wide," taken from the third chapter of the book of Revelation. At the close of the service there will be a get-together hour in the social rooms. An interesting and inspiring program is being arranged. Refreshments will be served. A sincere welcome is extended to all.

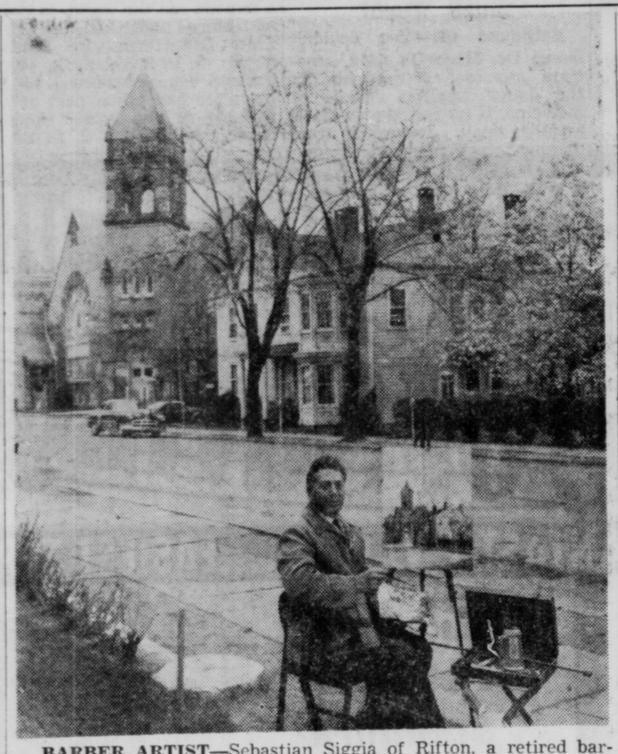
In 13th Day of Fast

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 2 (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Evelyn Jenkins read the Bible, prayed and meditated in the woods near her aunt's house today as she began the 13th day of a planned 21-day fast. The pretty brunette, who said she had never been a member of a church before she joined the Voice of Faith Temple in September, said she is fasting for the "glory of God" and wants to become a home missionary.



BARBER ARTIST—Sebastian Siggia of Rifton, a retired barber, captures the spirit of spring as he paints a budding magnolia tree while it was in bloom last week near St. James Methodist Church, Fair and Pearl streets. Mr. Siggia, who said he has been interested in art since he was a young boy in his native Italy, attended art schools there and in New York city. He formerly owned and operated the Rialto Barber Shop, 304 Fair street, before selling it last year to Walter Streib. This painting will be on exhibit at the annual exhibition of the Ulster County Artists Association, date of which will be announced. Mr. Siggia said he enjoys painting "to help me pass the time since I retired from barbering." (Pennington photo).

Pieck Death Denied

Berlin, May 2 (AP)—Communist East Germany denied today widely circulated rumors that ailing 81-year-old President Wilhelm Pieck is dead. ADN, the official East Germany news agency, reported Pieck, who recently suffered his third stroke, received Premier Otto Grotewohl and party chief Walter Ulbright yesterday. The agency said the president received May Day greetings of his two visitors and accompanied them to the door on their departure. Death rumors which circulated in East Berlin yesterday apparently were touched off by reinforcement of guards around the president's home.

Seeing Eye Cat

Mill Valley, Calif. (AP) — The J. R. Rowntrees' blind cocker spaniel dog is led about these days by a "Seeing-Eye" tomcat. The cocker, Duke, developed cataracts. He started bumping into things. That's when the gray tomcat, Bos'n, started taking over. "I couldn't believe it at first," said Mrs. Rowntree. "One day I looked out and saw that Duke had strayed part way down the hill. He was standing there confused, not seeming to know how to get back to the house. "Bos'n heard me call him, darted out the front door and ran down to where Duke was. He nudged Duke around and led him back up the path." Rowntree, said Bos'n often saves Duke from falling off the porch by moving in between the dog and the porch's edge.

Small World

Baltimore (AP)—You couldn't blame Dr. Moses Paulson, associate professor of medicine at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, if he felt the world is awfully small. Returning from a trip around the world, in which he lectured under auspices of the State Department, Dr. Paulson noted: 1. In Istanbul, the young Turkish woman who was his interpreter had taken part of her training in the Johns Hopkins tissue laboratory. 2. In Bangkok, he met Mrs. Frost Parrish, cultural attache at the American Embassy and the daughter of a pioneer public-health scientist at Johns Hopkins. 3. In Tokyo, a clipping from the New York Times pasted to the wall of an optical plant told of some American medical-optical research. One of the researchers mentioned was Dr. Moses Paulson. 4. In Hong Kong, the consul general was Everett Drumright, a former patient of Dr. Paulson's at Johns Hopkins.

Confirms KKK Charge Church Aided NAACP

Columbia, S. C., May 2 (AP)—The moderator of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., last night confirmed Ku Klux Klan charges that the church gave $10,000 to the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People to pay off a damage suit.

The South Carolina Klan charged yesterday that the church (the northern branch) gave the money to the NAACP to use in an out-of-court settlement of a suit brought by Sumter, S. C., attorney Shepherd K. Nash.

The moderator, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, said in Chicago: "I gave them $10,000 from church funds on the authority of the Assembly."

Earlier, a spokesman at the church's Philadelphia headquarters said that the church contributed $2,500 to the NAACP.

Pasha's Sons Kidnaped

Rabat, Morocco, May 2 (AP)—Five sons of the late Thami El Glaoui, once powerful Pasha of Marrakech, were kidnaped yesterday. Their vast, rich palace was taken over by soldiers of the irregular Moroccan army of liberation. The kidnaping and invasion of the palace brought to the surface again long simmering resentment between loyal followers of Sultan Mohammed V and El Glaoui's friends.

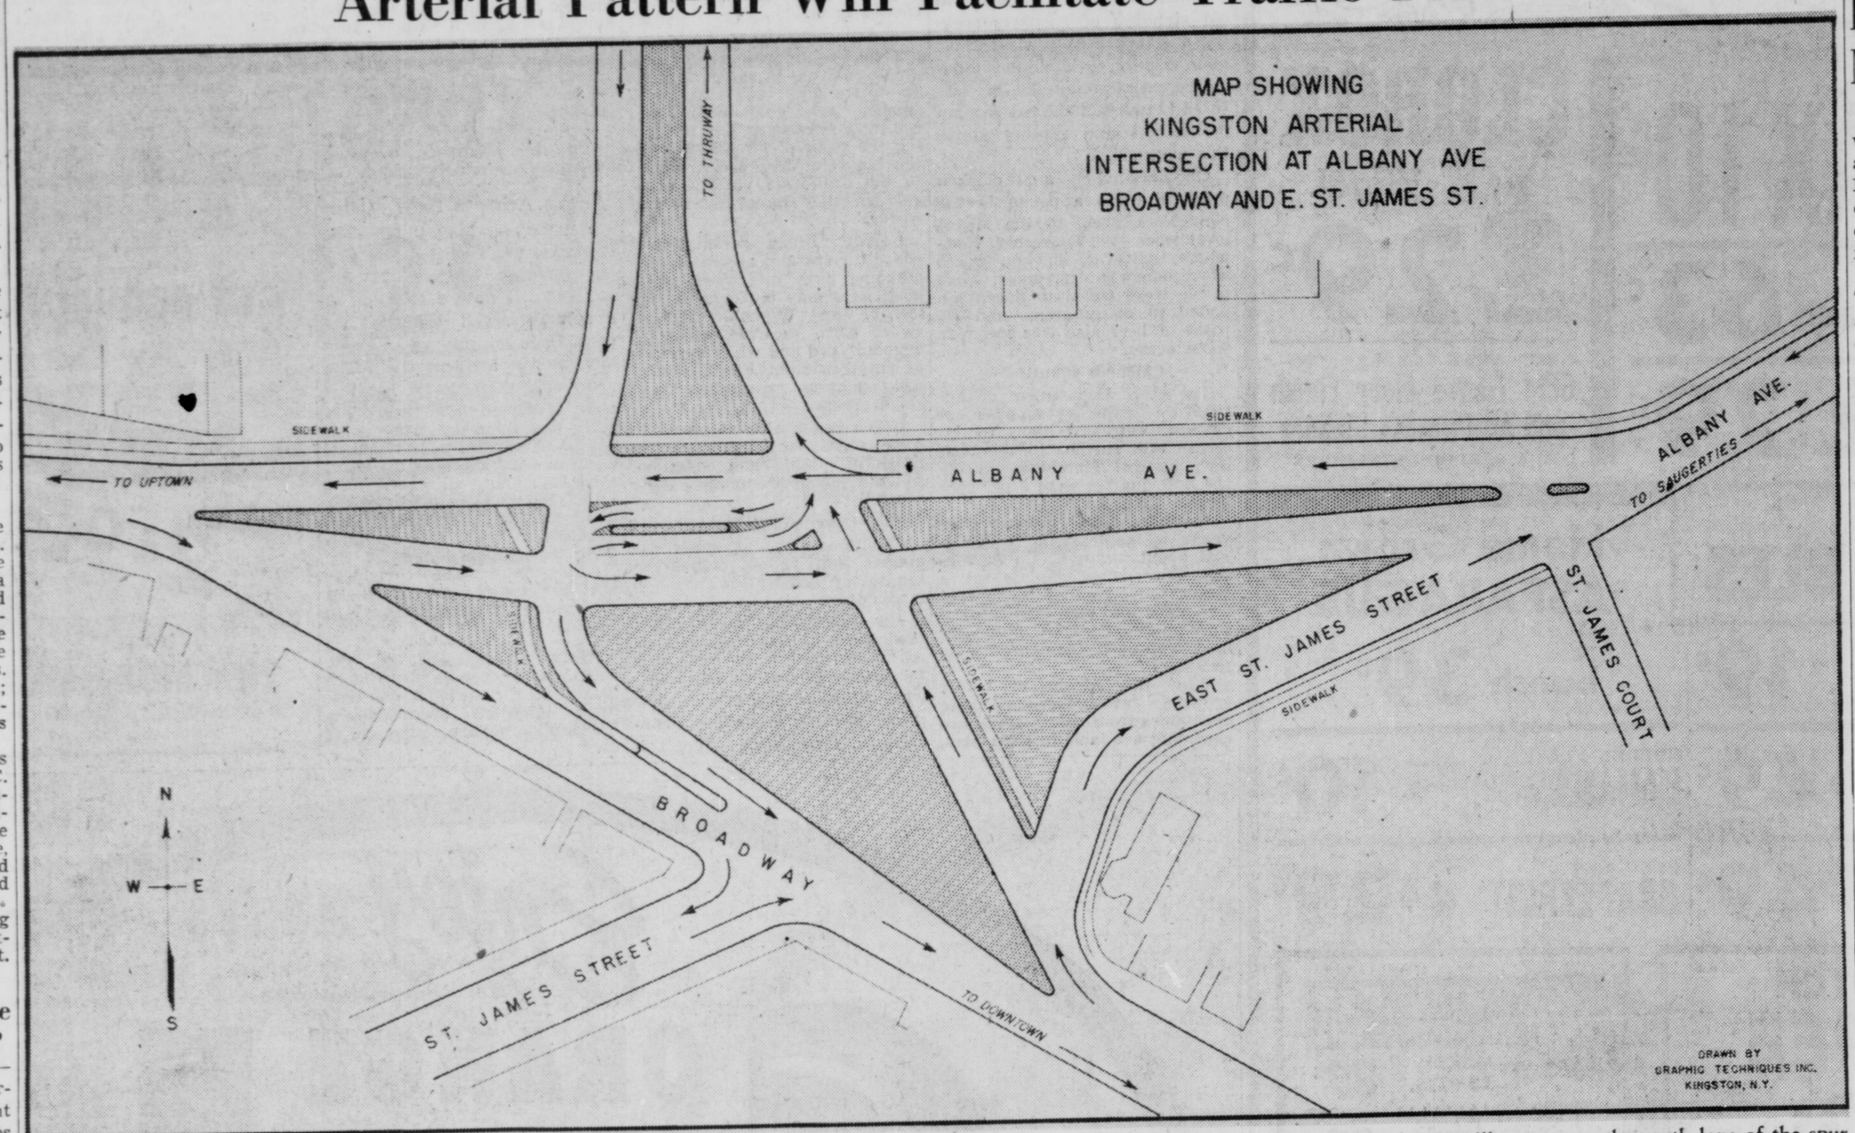
Arterial Pattern Will Facilitate Traffic Flow



An interchange system at the city's end of an arterial spur connecting with the Route 28 thruway interchange will facilitate the flow of all traffic in the area. Arrows on the map above show directional flow. Traffic will move east on Broadway from Albany avenue to a point below St. James street. It will also move east in the one lane leading off the thruway spur and west in the other lane. East St. James street also figures in the system and traffic there will move north into Albany avenue. The westernmost lane on Albany avenue will carry south-bound traffic and the other lane, leading off Broadway will carry north-bound traffic to the fusion point on Albany avenue near St. James court. Traffic from Broadway headed northwest to the thruway interchange will move over the north lane of the spur. The map indicates that the entire triangular section formed by Broadway, Albany avenue and East St. James street will be used in building the interchange. Work on the project is due to start in the summer.

Pork Prices Are Down

Chickens, Chuck Roast Featured as Best Buys

(By The Associated Press)

Chickens and chuck roast, two old standbys of shoppers seeking a comparatively inexpensive main dish for their families' Sunday dinner tables, will be featured in many of the nation's supermarkets and grocery stores this weekend.

One national chain cut chicken prices 8 cents a pound in the New York area, to the lowest level since last December. Elsewhere, however, chicken prices were somewhat irregular. Pork prices were cut 2 to 6 cents a pound in many areas, and rib roast of beef also was lower in some areas.

Chickens Plentiful

The U. S. Department of Agriculture expects supplies of chickens, already high, to increase still further in the next few months. Hatchings during the first quarter were 6 per cent larger than last year.

Another crop topping last year's is maple sirup, which is just about wrapping up its season. Government experts say a larger proportion of the output was made into high quality sirup since more and more producers have improved their processing techniques.

With the advent of better growing weather, more and more vegetables from nearby fields are becoming available in the stores, giving the bargain-hunting housewife more of a selection to choose from.

Asparagus Near Peak

This week, for instance, new green cabbage is rated close to an outstanding buy, along with spinach, kale, green onions and radishes. Asparagus, too, is nearing the peak of its season with the big New Jersey crop added to the California variety available in the stores for several weeks.

Carrots, beets, parsnips and white turnips also are rated outstanding buys this week, while good buys may be found among iceberg and Romaine lettuce, sweet corn, escarole, chickory, eggplant, red and white varieties of potatoes from Florida, broccoli, peppers, cucumbers and salad greens.

Green beans also are good in some areas, but have a wide range of quality and condition, so the shopper must choose carefully.

Other Good Buys

Cauliflower, pascal celery, tomatoes and yellow and green squash are moderately priced in many areas.

For those who favor them, production of mushrooms is at its highest peak of the year with the crop expected to run somewhat ahead of last year's. The prime growing areas are Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, California and Michigan.

Citrus Outlook

Rhubarb is figured to be the best buy at fruit counters as outdoor varieties join the hothouse types sold earlier this spring.

Valencia oranges and limes from Florida, plus California navel oranges and lemons, give mothers plenty of fruit to squeeze for breakfast, or for the kids' refreshment when they come in from playing on warm afternoons. Several varieties of grapefruit—pink, red, Marsh and Duncan—also are still rated as good buys.

Washington apples, Oregon pears and California avocados are more moderately priced.

Army Adopts New Rifle

Washington, May 2 (AP)—The Pentagon has reported two major weapons changes. It announced the army's adoption of a new rifle, and confirmed reports U. S. forces have an eight-inch atomic artillery shell. The army said yesterday it has formally adopted the new T44 rifle, developed by army ordnance, to replace four shoulder weapons—the Garand M1 rifle, the Browning automatic rifle (BAR), the .30 caliber carbine, and the M3 submachine gun. The T44 uses 7.62 mm ammunition, the standard adopted for NATO troops. The cartridges are shorter and lighter than the .30 caliber ammunition used in the M1.

Hetty Green, one of the wealthiest women in the United States at the turn of the century, inherited seven-and-one half million dollars at the age of 21.

Admits Sex Killings, Quizzed in Others

Gary, Ind., May 2 (AP)—A steelworker's signed statement yesterday solved two sex killings and police planned to question the young man about the slaying of a Gary school teacher in 1949.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Sandor Singer said George Robert Brown, 25, signed a statement admitting he killed Mrs. Mildred Grigonis, 29-year-old East Gary beautician, and Lana Brock, a 16-year-old New Chicago, Ind., schoolgirl in rape attempts.

Singer planned to question Brown about the slaying of Miss Mary Cheever, a Gary school teacher who was beaten to death in an alley near her home eight years ago. The case had been considered robbery, or a possibly a revenge killing.

Chicago authorities also asked that Brown be questioned about the deaths of the Grimes sisters, Patricia, 13, and Barbara, 15, whose nude, frozen bodies were found northwest of Chicago Jan. 22. Two detectives from the cook county (Chicago) state's attorney's office talked to him last night but did not report their findings. The sisters disappeared from home Dec. 28.

Disappearing Island

Scientific explanation of the periodic disappearance of Falcon Island is that the island is produced by intermittent eruptions of an underwater volcano. When the volcano is quiet, the sea wears away the ash it has thrown up.

Good Taste Today

The first letter in today's mail tells me: "Recently my husband and I were guests at a small dinner party. Throughout dinner and a good part of the evening, the host, hostess and the two other guests present discussed a recent trip they had taken together and we were completely excluded from the conversation. Do you have any suggestions as to what we could have said, or done, to avoid the uncomfortable situation other than the few unsuccessful attempts we made to change the conversation into something more general?"

As you seemed in no way interested in the subject of their trip, you could have said goodnight shortly after dinner and left.

Dancing With Another Man

Dear Mrs. Post: When a young man I know comes to our restaurant table to say "hello" and asks me to dance, am I supposed to ask the man I'm with for permission, or is the young man asking me supposed to ask this? Just what is the accepted procedure?

Answer: If you alone are guest of a man at a supper club you are expected to dance almost continuously with him. If a friend of yours asks you to dance, you ask your host, "Do you mind, John, if I dance a little of this with Bob?" John undoubtedly answers, "Not at all!" You should however, make this dance very short in order to return quite promptly to John.

Dining in Cafeteria

Dear Mrs. Post: When eating in a cafeteria-type restaurant, should one ask permission of a stranger to sit at her table? It is not possible for each one to have a table alone during the noonday rush, but I wondered if this should be done in courtesy.

Answer: Before sitting down, it is common courtesy to ask, "Are you saving this place for anyone?"

What part of the wedding expenses does the bridegroom pay? This and other information about wedding expenses are listed in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-4, "Wedding Expenses." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Taipei Hit by Flu

Taipei, May 2 (AP)—An influenza epidemic has spread to this capital from the nearby port of Kelung. Health authorities, fearing a spread throughout the Chinese Nationalist island, intensified appeals today for isolation of flu victims and avoidance of public gatherings. Four thousand cases—2 per cent of the population—have been reported at Keelung, where a U. S. Navy base is located. More than 2,000, many of them schoolchildren, have become ill in Taipei. One school alone reported more than 600 cases.

Ulster Garden Club Hears Timely Report On Importance of Community Planning

At a recent meeting of the Ulster Garden Club, Mrs. W. A. Carl reported a lecture on "The Importance of Community Planning Whether It Is an Old or New Community" by Hugh Pomeroy, director of Westchester County Department of Planning, and Frederick Clarke, planning consultant and former president of the American Institute of Flowers. The lecture was given at the Waldorf Astoria, New York city.

Mr. Pomeroy, who during his professional career has participated in an official capacity as director or consultant in over 800 planning commission meetings and has made over 3,000 public addresses on planning and related subjects, will be the guest speaker on Tuesday, May 14 at 2:30 p. m. at the Ridgely Casino, Stone Ridge at a meeting sponsored by the Ulster Garden Club. Local municipal officers will attend the lecture.

The importance of community planning in maintaining the community as a pleasant place to live was developed by the speakers at the Waldorf meeting around three main points, Mrs. Carl reported.

Study your community and the forces which shape it. This means old and new characteristics and old industry.

Decide what kind of a community you want to keep and maintain. The zoning ordinance defines in large measure what you get. If you have minimum standards, you get a minimum community — with maximum standards you have a maximum community. It doesn't grow by magic, it is the day by day growth made of small decisions that the welfare of the community depends.

In nearly every community there is a shifting population, which has to be educated to the ideals of the community and what has gone before. The community will be as good or as bad as its citizens make it.

Maintain the esthetic characteristics of the community as a means of making the community a pleasant place to live. A good community is a tremendous physical help in attaining full living.

New Disaster Area

Dallas, May 2 (AP)—A new disaster area was declared on the lower Sabine as the flooding river surged downstream at record heights, threatening to inundate for the second time in three years the small community of Deweyville. The 1,000 residents of the Newton county town, 10 miles north of Orange, Tex., were standing by to evacuate if necessary. The town was hit by a flood in 1953. Heavy cloudbursts soaked the Trinity river watershed in north central Texas, causing flash floods in the Dallas area. A new flood warning was issued for the Trinity as it began a rapid rise.

May Have Had 'Leak'

Washington, May 2 (AP) — A one-time Capitol Hill aide, reversing a previous denial, told investigating senators today he may have had a "leak" on airline route information from a Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) official. Laurence Henderson, now of Hagerstown, Md., first testified he acted solely on a "hunch" and his own deductions when he telephoned a Boston broker last Aug. 3 that he believed Northeast Airlines had been awarded a New York-Miami route. Henderson swore he had no inside tip on a secret 3-2 decision by the CAB the night of Aug. 2 to give Northeast the route. The CAB decision was not announced publicly until Aug. 10.

Ike Summons Richards Home

Washington, May 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower has directed Special Ambassador James P. Richards to end his tour of Middle Eastern countries without visiting Egypt, Syria and Jordan, where the Eisenhower Mid-East program has become bitterly controversial.

The state department announced today that Eisenhower has asked Richards to come home "as soon as feasible to confer with him on preparations for the new mutual security bill."

He will arrive in Washington May 8 and attend a meeting of congressional leaders on foreign aid at the White House May 9. Meanwhile, he will visit Israel, Tunis and Morocco. That will bring to 15 the number of Middle Eastern nations he has toured for the declared purpose of explaining the Eisenhower Anti-communist program and offering U. S. assistance.

There have been reports that Egypt and Syria, both friendly to Russia, would be willing to receive Richards. However, some officials here have thought they might use his presence as an excuse for Anti-American demonstations and incidents—in other words, set a trap for the United States. His coming home without visiting them avoids the the possibility of such a situation.

Two State Men Are Killed in Ohio

Ashtabula, Ohio, May 2 (AP)—Two New York men were killed and two others were injured when a car hit a power pole on Ohio 46 south of Ashtabula last night.

The dead were John A. Kohl, 28, Bullis Road, Marilla, N. Y., and Warren J. Kipp, 45, 321 E. Lake Road, Canandaigua, N. Y.

Injured were Herbert Susman, 28, Conneaut, Ohio, whose back and both legs were broken, and Paul J. Tullar, 31, 32 Temple Place, Aurora, N. Y., who suffered multiple cuts and bruises and a sprained neck and back. Both are in Ashtabula General Hospital.

The State Highway Patrol said Tullar lost control of the car on a curve, hit the power pole and flipped over in a field.

The men were believed to have attended a demonstration by a farm equipment manufacturer at Jefferson, Ohio, yesterday.

NATO Assured

to be an instrument of attack," he declared. "It is an instrument of defense against attack and it fulfills that task in full measure."

Lists Three Factors

The West, Adenauer continued, must base its policy and actions on "the serious realities of our age." Among these he listed:

(1) Soviet maintenance of five million men under arms and retention of 22 divisions with some 7,500 modern tanks in East Germany; (2) Russia's expressed determination to impose the Communist system on the entire world; (3) the territorial expansion of the Soviet Union since the war and her control of East Europe.

Adenauer's statement fell in line with the conviction of most of the alliance's political leaders that successful defense must be based on the free world's arsenal of nuclear weapons.

Both Adenauer and Italian Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino, current chairman of the NATO Council, warmly praised the work of the retiring secretary general, Lord Ismay of Britain. It was in Ismay's honor that the opening council session was held in public, in the Stadhalle of nearby Bad Godesberg.

Godfrey May Return As Radio Disc Jockey

New York, May 2 (AP)—The New York Post said today that television's Arthur Godfrey is about to go back to being a daily radio disc jockey again.

The newspaper said Godfrey would run a late afternoon radio program resembling the disc jockey program on which he got his start in Washington. He would continue his television appearances, it added.

It said Godfrey was part of a two to four million dollar package deal being worked out between the Columbia Broadcasting System and the Ford Motor Co. Other features of the package would be Ed Murrow newscasts and a morning tape-recorded music program starring Bing Crosby and Rosemary Clooney.

Sottile Sentence Is Suspended in Case Over Fires

Thomas Sottile, 22, of 19 Cordts street, one of several young men arrested last November after a probe of downtown fires, was given a suspended sentence by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

Sottile and six others were booked on third degree arson charges after a probe of fires of apparent incendiary origin, including one in the Kingston Point area. Five of the said grou, were members of Cordts Hose Company.

A plea of guilty to malicious mischief was entered yesterday by Sottile, and his attorney Hubert Richter asked for leniency.

Must Watch Behavior

It was indicated that the fire had been set so that the volunteer company could respond and achieve a noticeable record.

Judge Bruhn suspended imposition of sentence during good behavior.

Others in the group were treated as youthful offenders and some of the cases are still to be disposed of.

Grand Jury Reports

Six sealed indictments, one open and two dismissals were reported to Judge Bruhn in a partial grand jury report Tuesday.

The present grand jury will continue until the next one is summoned for the October term of Supreme Court.

Richard E. Smith, 17, was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny, first degree, it being alleged he took a station wagon of Bernard Spirer in the town of Wawarsing on April 2, 1957. A plea of innocent was entered Joseph Hill was assigned as counsel. The grand jury recommended he be treated under the Youthful Offender law.

Earl Brown, one of three defendants charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry alleged to have been committed last December 8, was arraigned and a plea of innocent entered. Bail was set at $500 cash or $1,000 property. Brown was remanded to jail. He said he would attempt to get an attorney.

Maria Anna Costantino, R.D. 1, Highland, changed a former innocent plea to one of guilty of violation of Section 145 of the Social Welfare Law, in that she accepted welfare funds when she had other means of support. Joseph Saccoman appeared for defendant and asked leniency. Judge Bruhn suspended imposition of any sentence during good behavior.

Court recessed until 2 p. m. today when Judge Fromer of Greene county will dispose of cases in which Judge Bruhn is disqualified to act.

Situation Tense

formal clothes he wore to the inauguration ceremonies, called at the presidential palace at 1:30 a. m. and was closeted 15 minutes with Somoza. He refused to talk with reporters on leaving, saying, "I have work to do."

Pledge Support

Leaders of the Independent Liberal and Conservative parties, nominally in opposition to the government, called at the palace to pledge their support. Leaders of the regular Conservative party, Somoza's bitterest opposition, were silent but one prominent member told a reporter privately he would "do his patriotic duty" if called on.

The word of the first fighting in the long disputed border region ruined last night's big inaugural reception at Managua's new country clubs. Diplomats of 40 nations and the whole of Managua society had been invited. Hundreds showed up but the newly inducted president and other top officials did not appear. Three orchestras were sent home without playing a note and the party broke up at midnight.

Will Recall Beck

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Teamster President Dave Beck faces a new round of questioning by Senate investigators next week without the legal services of former Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania. Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) announced last night he has summoned Beck to appear May 8 for another public hearing before the special Senate committee investigating alleged racketeering in labor unions and industry.

Charles Lamb was in the habit of wearing a white cravat, and in consequence was sometimes taken for a clergyman. Once at a dinner table, among a large number of guests, his white cravat caused such a mistake to be made, and he was called to "say grace." Looking up and down the table, he asked, in his inimitable lisping manner.

Lamb—Is there no cl-cl-clergyman present?

Guest—No, sir.

Lamb — Then (bowing his head) let us thank God.

Profits Better Than Expected In Year's First Three Months

New York, May 2 (AP)—American business did better on profits in the first three months of the year than many had expected. But the number of companies showing declining net income after taxes was clearly on the increase. And the over-all gain above the year ago period was much smaller than in the two previous years.

How They Split

The first 491 corporations to report first quarter profits split this way: 279 made more than a year ago and 212 made less. There were 14 companies operating at a loss, four of them railroads. This was the same total as had red ink reports a year ago.

The 491 had combined net earnings of $2,997,302,621. This was a gain of 7.6 per cent over the $2,783,043,406 the same 491 reported in the first three months of 1956.

The 412 industrials in the list had a combined increase of 8.5 per cent, although 174 of them showed decreased earnings.

The 36 utilities, with 13 declining, report a combined increase of 2.2 per cent, the smallest year-to-year gain for any period in several years.

The 33 railroads, with 19 on the declining side, showed a combined drop of 10.3 per cent.

Picture Year Ago

A year ago American business as a whole showing a 12 per cent gain over the 1956 first quarter, which had been up a spanking 27.2 per cent over the first three months of 1955.

During the first three months of this year American coprorations declared cash dividends of more than 2¾ billion dollars, up 2½ per cent from the 1956 quarter.

In many cases where companies reported increased earnings this year, they added that their sales had climbed even faster. Despite rising prices in many instances, operation costs, transportation and taxes had gone up even more.

Most of those reporting declines from 1956 also stress the profit pinch from higher costs.

Some fortunate companies have been able to raise prices enough, or cut production costs enough, or both, to increase their profit margins.

The squeeze on profits became evident in the summer of 1956 when earnings dropped sharply from the level of the earlier months. For the year as a whole, total earnings topped 1955 but much of the gain represented inflated prices which make for book profits on inventories.

Shown by Figures

What has been happening to profits in relation to sales is shown by figures released by the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities & Exchange Commission. Reporting only on manufacturing companies, the agencies show these had both record sales and record profits last year—with inflation of prices counting for about half of the gain.

Profits as a percentage of the sales dollar slipped to 5.3 cents in 1956 from 5.4 cents the year before. The rate of profit after taxes in relation to stockholders' equity in the companies slid to 12 per cent in 1956 from 12.3 per cent the previous year.

Industries showing lower first quarter profits this year than last include: Nonferrous mining, metalworking, farm equipment, rail equipment, building materials, cement, glass, paper and its products, appliances, chemicals and textiles.

Still climbing in the first three months were: Steel, coal, oil, autos, rubber, containers, machinery, machine tools, electrical equipment, business machines, drugs, food, tobacco, retail, aircraft and shipping.

Lack of Stop Sets No-Trump

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

A San Francisco correspondent wants to know what went wrong with his bidding. He writes:

"I assume that my two diamond response and three diamond rebid were correct. Also there can be no question of my partner's one spade opening and two no-trump rebid. Was his three no-trump bid correct also? If so, should I have left it in or bid my diamonds a third time?

"East opened the seven of clubs against three no-trump and we went down one trick. How could we have reached the lay-down slam in diamonds?"

The answer to his problem is that North's third-round bid of three no-trump was wrong. North had a very simple bid at his disposal. He should have bid three hearts. This bid could not be misinterpreted. Obviously North did not hold a heart suit or he would have bid it earlier. North would be showing that he had strength in hearts and wanted to play three no-trump if South could produce a stopper in clubs.

At that point South would realize that three no-trump would be out of the question. He would also know that he had very good diamonds and only one club. Assuming North had a good hand with nothing in clubs, five diamonds would be a cinch and six a possibility.

Over three hearts South should have bid five diamonds. At that point it would be up to North to go on to the slam if he felt like it. I believe that with his high cards represented by three aces and a king North might well have done so.

If he hadn't, at least his side would have shown a nice profit instead of the loss at three no-trump.

Filibuster Continues

Austin, Tex., May 2 (AP)—Sen. Henry Gonzales of San Antonio went in to pinch-hit for Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. today in their joint filibuster to block passage of a key segregation bill. The filibuster, kicked off at 11:16 a. m. yesterday, and with the exception of a two-hour break for lunch, has moved steadily into its second day. No break appeared likely until possibly this afternoon or tonight. Kazen, 37, a solidly-built citizen of Laredo, held the floor for 15 hours and 4 minutes until Gonzalez came into to relieve him at 5 a. m.

'Free Expression' Theory Is Tough on a Little Boy

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The letter says, "My 5-year-old grandson is being raised by the modern theory of 'free expression.' Two days ago, he insulted an old friend of mine he had met for the first time. When she offered to untangle a string for him that had gotten snarled in a toy, he told her to go home—that he didn't like her. His mother justified this by calling it his 'honesty.' What do you think of such training?"

I think it is pretty hard on the little boy.

If his parents continue to encourage such uncontrolled expression, he is going to attract more criticism than his five-year-old confidence can take.

One of these days his "honesty" will provoke somebody else to a "free expression" of resentment that will shock him rather cruelly. Such an experience could end, not only in distrust of his parents' ability to protect him, but in rejection of honesty as a reliable quality.

It's unfortunate that the theorists of "free expression" ever suggested that a child's emotional health depends on his doing or saying anything he feels. Because it isn't true.

His emotional health, like ours, depends not on telling other people what he feels but on his knowing what he feels. It is when we make him falsify his feelings that the moral damage is done—when we make him PRETEND to like Grandma's friend when he doesn't like her.

So long as we respect his right to dislike her, we can ask him to refrain from expressing the feeling when the expression is unwise.

So what we might say to this little boy who must learn when silence is golden is this: "It is all right for you to dislike Grandma's friend. It is all right for you to wish she'd go home. But it was unwise to tell her so. It just started her disliking you and wishing you'd go home. So unless you want to be disliked yourself, don't tell strangers you don't like them."

Parents who refuse to put any controls on a child's free expression, whether it be a wagging tongue or a kicking foot, are seldom motivated by interest in his honesty.

They are far more interested in using him to express their own resentments of conventional authority. Not daring to defy it themselves, they take a second-hand satisfaction in the child's defiance of it.

They themselves are victims of emotional dishonesty.

City Baseball League Has Five Teams but No Playing Field

Athletic Field, Dietz Stadium In the Picture

City Baseball League managers and officials emerged from their organizational meeting last night in something of a dilemma.

They have five teams ready, willing and able to launch the 1957 season. But there's a catch. They haven't a baseball diamond.

The teams ready to go, according to league president, Fred Davi, are Jones Dairy's 1956 champions, Watzkas, Nadler Motors, Kingston Eagles and Dobler Beer. All five are holdovers from the 1956 campaign.

May Not Have Field

President Davi reported that owners of the Athletic Field, traditional stamping grounds of the twilight circuit, notified him several months ago the field might not be available. As of the moment, it isn't.

The next step, according to Davi, will be in the form of overtures to Andy Murphy, superintendent of recreation, to make Dietz Stadium available to the city league. A committee has been named to await on Murphy.

Davi said he personally favored switching the league to municipal stadium for a combination of twilight-night games.

Sawyers Bid For 1st Place In UCAL Race

Saugerties High can take over sole possession of first place in the UCAL Friday with a victory over New Paltz Central at Cantine Field.

The contest of one of three on the slate in the loop. In other action, Wallkill visits Marlboro and Rondout Valley travels to Highland.

Victory should come easy for the undefeated Sawyers who have a spotless 5-0 record overall and 3-0 in the loop. New Paltz has another weak squad and is currently entrenched in the cellar with an 0-4 mark.

Wallkill, which was toppled for the first time by Saugerties Tuesday, will attempt to bounce back at the expense of Marlboro (1-3). The Blue Devils stand 2-1 and are third.

Highland Is 1-1

Highland is 1-1 and fresh from a whopping 18-0 triumph over New Paltz. Rondout Valley (1-2) is in a mild slump after starting the season with a handsome shutout over Marlboro.

Onteora Central is idle tomorrow and right now is tied with Saugerties for first. The Indians have won four games altogether and are off to their best start in history.

One other area game is on tap and that matches Ellenville against homestanding Port Jervis. The Red Raiders won the first encounter 9-1 and will be looking to sweep the season's series.

That setback is the only blemish on the Blue Devils' four-game record so far. Port went into its DUSO League opener today against Kingston with the same 3-1 mark.

The Boston Red Sox have finished fourth in the American League four straight years.

Did Ivy League College Lure Boy From Ohio?

Ithaca, May 2 (AP)—A report that an Ohio schoolboy had been lured to an Ivy League school by "under the table and beyond the code" attractions is being investigated by a league official.

Prof. Frederick G. Marcham of Cornell University, chairman of the Ivy League eligibility committee, said yesterday he was investigating a remark made by President William E. Stevenson of Oberlin, Ohio, College.

In a speech Monday night in New York city, Stevenson attacked college athletics on the ground that rules were drafted for the enforcement of amateurism but were not applied.

He referred to an Ohio schoolboy who, he said, "had received offers from 12 universities . . . finally decided to go to an Ivy group school because the offer he had received from them was more substantial." He did not name the school.

When asked what he meant by more substantial, Stevenson answered: "Under the table and beyond the code."

Sugar Ray KO's Fullmer Champ for Fourth Time

Chicago, May 2 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who pumps his own fountain of youth with two deadly fists, today was headed for the greatest payoff of his miraculous ring career—a mid-July bout with welterweight champ Carmen Basilio.

Robinson, celebrating his 37th birthday tomorrow, was the marvel of the fistic realm after his fifth round knockout last night of middleweight champion Gene Fullmer to become the first man ever to win the 160-pound title four times.

A 3½ to 1 underdog, Robinson lured the 25-year-old Fullmer into false confidence in the nationally-televised bout at the Chicago Stadium and then paralyzed him with a devastating left hook in 1:27 of the fifth round.

Fullmer, who had dethroned Robinson at New York Jan. 2, foolishly abandoned his rushing, brawling tactics of that fight and thought he could match Sugar Ray, flurry-for-flurry last night.

It didn't work.

It was like a bull trying to second-guess a toreador. The kill actually started in the fourth round. With less than a minute left, Robinson slashed Fullmer with a series of punches, climaxed with a left hook to the head. Instead of retreating, the West Jordan, Utah toughie, tried to prove he wasn't hurt with a burst of his own.

Was He Tired?

Sugar Ray looked tired in his corner between the fourth and fifth rounds. He may or may not have been playing possum as he stretched out and almost made his stool a bed.

The fifth started with Fullmer pressing, but missing. Robinson moved in with a stiff right to the body. Sugar Ray drove another right to the body. Fullmer's guard dropped way down. Then Robinson whistled the left hook to the jaw. It didn't travel far, but it caught Gene flush.

Fullmer crumpled to the floor. He was really tagged. He writhed and rolled as Referee Frank Sikora counted to 10. Gene finally struggled to his feet, but the fight was over.

This 140th victory—and his 91st knockout in 153 pro bouts since 1940—pointed Robinson for a meeting with welterweight champ Basilio, probably at Yankee Stadium in mid-July, which could bring the biggest gate in ring history under the light heavy division.

Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, envisioned a better gate than the 61,370 who paid $767,626 to watch Robinson recapture the middleweight title from Randy Turpin at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 12.

Basilio Impressed

Basilio saw Robinson annihilate Fullmer last night.

"I thought Robinson fought a smart fight," commented the rugged 147-pound king. "Naturally, I was pulling for Robinson to win. If I have a chance to fight the guy, it means a big pay day for me, too."

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson, blamed his fighters defeat on his desire to fight a "spectacular" battle.

"We kept warning him in the corner to keep his hands high, especially after the fourth round," said Jenson. "We told him not to fight Robinson until he was in close."

The bewildered Fullmer said in his dressing room "That's the first time I ever got knocked out and I don't know how it happened. I wanted a knockout. Any time I can knock out a guy like that, I'll take it."

Loser Was Leading

All three officials had Fullmer ahead by a close 19-18 margin, based on the "five-point must system" in Illinois, after four rounds. The AP had Robinson ahead, 19-18.

The crowd was announced as 14,757 paid with a gross gate of $158,643 and a net of $124,647. That was sweetened by a $100,000 radio-TV fee and the share to each fighter, on a 30-30 basis, was a total of $67,394 apiece.

Robinson, who weighed 159½ against Fullmer's 159¼, explained he was "just maneuvering" Fullmer.

"I used a right as a decoy," said Sugar Ray. "I wanted a clean shot with my left. I finally got it. I don't know how far it traveled, but I'm sure Mr. Fullmer got the message."

Callanan's Stop Martin's For Independent Honors

Callanan Road Improvement keglers became champions of the Independent League last night when they defeated Martin's Broadway Market, 2-1, in a three-game playoff.

Callanan's won the second round. The marketmen had taken the first half of the pennant chase.

An 873-782 margin in the third set decided the issue. The champions won the first game, 758-727. Martin's squared it 806-741 in the middle set. Callanan's tripled 2372 to Martin's 2315.

The playoff was somewhat on the bizarre side as no player on either side was able to crack a "500" series. Leon Studt led Callanan's with 486 and Howard Wood shot 478 for Martin's.

The championship trophy, donated by John Sangi of the Bowlero, will be awarded at the annual banquet Saturday, May 4, at the SRS Home in Cottekill.

To Spend Six Million On New Bowling Lanes

New York, May 2 (AP)—Automatic pin-setting machines for new bowling centers to be constructed by Ruben A. Dankoff, Rochester, N. Y., businessman, will be provided by the American Machine & Foundry Co.

The bowling centers, according to the company's announcement yesterday, will be built at Hicksville and Westbury, both on Long Island; Syracuse and Rochester, N. Y., and West Orange, N. J.

Company officials said Dankoff's total investment in construction, real estate and bowling equipment is more than six million dollars.

The Rochester center will have 32 lanes and the others will have 48 lanes.

Dining facilities, air conditioning, nurseries and 400-car parking lots will be part of the setups.

Bold Ruler 1st To Enter Derby

Louisville, Ky., May 2 (AP)—Bold Ruler, favorite for Saturday's running of the Kentucky Derby, with Gen. Duke's starting status still a question mark, with the first horse to be entered for the $125,000 added turf classic today.

In fact, the Ruler was entered yesterday before his 82-year-old trainer, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, departed for a visit to Lexington, Ky. But announcement of his entry was withheld until the box opened at 7 a. m. (EST) today.

Meantime, trainer Jimmy Jones reported that "a lot of the soreness in Gen. Duke's left front foot had been relieved but that they had not been able to localize the injury."

"We still may not know whether we can run him in the Derby until right before the race." A horse can be scratched any time until 45 minutes before the 4:30 p. m. (EST) post time.

"I hope to put a shoe on him later today and give the sore foot a more thorough test," Jones added. "It is just like a man with a stomach ache. You just have to wait until he gets over it."

Gen. Duke first showed signs of the bruised foot several hours after running second to Federal Hill in Tuesday's Derby trial.

Elmira Takes Fifth Straight

(By The Associated Press)

The Elmira Pioneers were still up and the Batavia Indians still down in the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League today.

Elmira defeated the visiting Erie Sailors, 7-6, last night to remain unbeaten in five games. The Pioneers are the only undefeated club in the league.

At Corning, the Red Sox handed Batavia its fifth straight defeat, 9-0. The Indians have yet to win a game.

In other games, the Bradford Blue Sox defeated the Falcons, 2-0, at Jamestown, and Wellsville trounced the Oilers, 14-8 at Olean.

Elmira scored the deciding two runs in the seventh on an error when third baseman Ted Brzenk threw wide to Charlie Kress at first, permitting two men on base to cross the plate. Wayne Coughtry, a righthander, made his record 1-1, as Corning triumphed easily over Batavia. Coughtry left the game in the ninth with one out after he turned his ankle while covering third. Tom Trochim stepped to the mound, threw one pitch, and retired the side on a double play.

WET FLY TRICK FOR SPIN-FISHERMEN

Cus D'Amato ducked back into New York after the Floyd Patterson exhibition tour long enough to reveal exclusively he'll definitely sign in May for a title bout . . . it won't be for the IBC. . . . The manager has five offers from independent promoters, with the guarantees ranging far above six figures. . . .

D'Amato let slip the only reason he kept plans for his exhibition tour secret was fear the IBC might cancel out all sparring partners for Patterson. . . .

To horse connoisseurs, the hottest jockey of the day, Willie Hartack, is an enigma . . . he violates every traditional concept of riding form, does everything wrong . . . except win . . . by the way, he hates being called Willie—much prefers the statelier Bill.

The end: Rocky Marciano has been offered, and is mulling, a chance to do summer stock with Tallulah in Massachusetts. . . .

Leo Durocher, doing an NBC game of the week, never keeps a scorecard by his microphone . . . the truth is, he confessed to cohort Lindsey Nelson, after spending 31 years in organized baseball he still doesn't know how to keep a scorecard . . . but his retentive memory (he can replay games years later) is so good he doesn't need the symbols to know what the batter has done his previous times up. . . .

Lou Stillman, fed up with boxing, would rather ride his horse in Central Park than whiff arnica in his landmark gym—he used to be a mounted cop. . . .

The same scout who got famous by signing Mickey Mantle—Tom Greenwade—signed Bil Virdon to a Yankee contract . . . and like Mickey, Bill also played short and did a hitch in semi-pro ball in Kansas . . . also like Mickey, the Yanks were the only club interested enough in Bill to offer a contract, later switched him to the outfield . . . but he's not sorry he wound up in Pittsburgh.

The only reason the Browns have delayed in signing their top draft choice, All-America Jim Brown of Syracuse, is that he's still being an All-America—in lacrosse. . . .

First news Jim Lee Howell had of the biggest pro football deal of the off-season was that a Green Bay quarterback had been shipped to the Browns . . . the Giant coach could see his defending championship dreams fading, until he found out it wasn't Tobin Rote . . . whom he considers the outstanding field general in the game. . . .

Everybody said getting married made a championship golfer of Bob Toski . . . now that he's no longer winning, they say being a family man is hurting his golf. . . .

Jimmy Foxx expects to return to Boston in June to accept a job as a public relations man for a large business firm . . . job like the one Bob Feller does for Motorola and Rogers Hornsby has in Chicago teaching kids to play . . . old Double X, a Hall-of-Famer, is currently baseball coach at Miami of Florida. . . .

The leisurely Yankee start has Casey Stengel worried enough to call an inordinate amount of clubhouse meetings to pep his world champs up. . . .

Between you'n'me, the only way to rid boxing of the IBC monopoly, says Cus D'Amato, is to take away one of their network TV shows, not their title promotions. . . .

Like Circus Men They Gave Passes

(By The Associated Press)

You would think the Shriner's Circus was in Springfield last night the way free passes were handed out.

The Schenectady Blue Jays took advantage of 13 bases on balls and combined them with an 8-hit attack in halting Springfield for the third night in a row, 11-3.

In the only other Eastern League game, Binghamton defeated Reading 4-1. Albany and Syracuse were not scheduled.

Springfield starter Ken Anderson gave up six walks and reliever Andy Yetsko passed out seven.

For the second night in a row, Schenectady centerfielder Jim Davis smashed a three-run homer. His efforts Tuesday night broke up a tight ball game. Last night's put the Jays ahead 7-3 in the sixth inning.

Lefthander John Anderson went the distance for Schenectady. He permitted nine safeties.

At Reading, Binghamton bunched five of its nine hits in the final two innings. Southpaw Ed Dick went the route for the Triplets.

Cooter Jones scored Reading's only run on a bases-empty homer in the sixth.

Long Trip for Autographs

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — Bob Elliott, manager of San Diego's Pacific Coast League baseball team, traveled 125 miles from spring training camp to see his daughter in a high school senior play. But at intermission he was so besieged by Little Leaguers and their fathers that he was late getting back inside — and missed his daughter's big scene.

Brooklyn's three top farm teams this season are Los Angeles, Montreal and St. Paul.

Mantle Failed Here

Baltimore, Md. (AP) — Mickey Mantle of the Yankees may be the best home run hitter in baseball but you can't prove it by the Baltimore fans. In the 11 games the Yankees played here last season, Mantle failed to hit the ball out of park. But in getting 52 homers he hit at least one in all the other American League parks.

Yonkers, May 2 (AP) — Paul Jackson, the 1-to-2 favorite, easily won the $7,900 Riverdale Trot at Yonkers Raceway last night before 19,727.

The winner, owned by Arthur F. Mc Conville of Godensburg, N. Y., paid $3.10 for $2.

Herb Score Fanning Batters At Average of 10 Per Contest

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Young Herb Score, Cleveland's sensational strikeout artist, appears on his way to averaging at least nine strikeouts a game for the third consecutive season.

No other pitcher in the long history of baseball has been able to average that many in even one season . . . not Bob Feller, Walter Johnson, Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Dazzy Vance, Dizzy Dean or any of the other pitching immortals.

Yet Score did it not only in his rookie year but repeated in his sophomore season. In 1955, he averaged 9.58 strikeouts a game. In '56, it was 9.59. Now, in his third year, he is striking out batters at a faster rate than ever—an even 10 a game.

When Feller set his major league strikeout record of 348 in 1946, he averaged 8.45 whiffs a game.

The 23-year-old southpaw fanned a dozen in 6⅓ innings yesterday before he was routed by Washington in the seventh, but Cleveland fought back to nip the Senators 7-6. It was the third consecutive triumph for the revived Indians, who went over the .500 mark for the first time this season.

The high flying Chicago White Sox continued at full steam, rolling over Baltimore 9-3, and increasing their American League lead over runnerup Boston to two games. The Red Sox, who had won six of seven on foreign soil, dropped a 7-5 decision in Kansas City. The New York Yankees whipped Detroit 7-4 to even their two-game series with the Tigers.

Spahn Wins Fourth

Milwaukee's Braves snapped back after Tuesday night's shutout, defeating the New York Giants 5-1 in 10 innings to retain their one-game margin over second place Brooklyn. The Dodgers trounced Chicago 7-2 behind the seven-hit pitching of young Don Drysdale. St. Louis paced by a pair of veterans, Walker Cooper and Stan Musial, whipped Pittsburgh 9-2 to take sole possession of third place. Wally Post singled in two runs in the top of the 16th inning to give the Cincinnati Redlegs an 8-6 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies in the longest game of the season, played under the lights.

Minnie Minoso paced the White Sox to their ninth victory in 11 games. The Cuban outfielder drove across four runs with a double, two singles and a sacrifice fly to help Jack Harshman gain his third triumph without a defeat. George Kell had four singles for the Orioles.

Kubek Sparkles

Tony Kubek, the Yankees' brilliant rookie prospect, and Tommy Byrne, the veteran lefthander, teamed up to beat Detroit. Kubek hit his first major league home run, contributed two singles and scored twice. Byrne, an old Tiger nemesis, yielded but two hits in 4⅔ runless relief innings to gain his first triumph. It was the 19th time Tommy had whipped Detroit in 28 decisions. Frank Lary, who beat the Yankees five times last year, was the loser.

Herb Score

Virgil Trucks, turned reliever at 38, earned his third success for Kansas City without a defeat, limiting the Red Sox to two hits in 6⅔ scoreless innings.

Tenth inning home runs by Frank Torre and Bobby Thomson followed a leadoff triple by Danny O'Connell and a single by Hank Aaron that broke a 1-1 tie for Milwaukee's triumph over the Giants. Warren Spahn who won his fourth without defeat, had a four-hit shutout until the ninth when Ossie Virgil tripled and pinch hitter Ray Jablonski singled to tie the score. Spahn singled home the first Milwaukee run.

Roy Campanella and Gil Hodges each drove in two runs to help Drysdale become the first Brooklyn pitcher to win two games. Two Brooklyn errors and Ernie Banks' homer furnished the Cubs' runs.

Firemen Held for Arson

Rochester, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Five volunteer firemen in suburban Brighton have been arrested and charged with third degree arson. The firemen, all members of the Brighton Volunteer Fire Department, were accused yesterday of setting six grass fires and a chicken coop fire. Detective Sergeant Carlton Fitch of Brighton said four of the men admitted setting the fires "just because they like to go to fires." He identified them as Donald H. Dix, 22, Roger Cassano, 20, Walter A. Goodman, 26, and Robert C. Goodman, 24, Walter's brother. They waived examination when arraigned before Peace Justice Floyd N. Ward and were ordered held for grand jury action.

Stoppage in Troy

Troy, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Construction work on nine projects in Troy and four neighboring communities was at a standstill today. Approximately 350 laborers walked off jobs yesterday in Troy, Cohoes, Watervliet, Green Island and Latham to support demands for increased wages and welfare benefits. They set up picket lines that were honored by about 1,000 other union workers. Raymond Duval, president of Local 452 of the laborers' union, said it sought an hourly wage boost of 7½ cents and an additional 7½ cents in welfare benefits. He said the current wage for laborers was $2.17½ an hour.

Ike Names Flake

Washington, May 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated career diplomat Wilson C. Flake of Polkton, N. C., as the first U. S. ambassador to the new African republic of Ghana. Flake, 51, now is counselor at the U. S. embassy in Rome. Previously he served as counselor at Pretoria, South Africa, and as executive director of the State Department's Bureau of Far Eastern Affairs. He has been in the diplomatic service since 1929.

Mrs. Ethelyn B. Feli, 52, of Hawleyville, Conn., who was arrested on a charge of permitting an unlicensed operator to drive April 24 after a two-car mishap at John and Crown streets, forfeited $15 bail through failure to appear before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

The persons were injured and both cars were damaged in the accident.

Three drivers were arrested early today on charges of speeding.

Philip Williams, 19, of 763 Broadway, arrested at 1:05 a. m., on Albany avenue, was fined $20. Albert Gilkerson, 21, of RD 2, Box 372, who was arrested at 1:35 a. m., on a charge of speeding on North Front street, forfeited $30 bail, and Henry J. Shortell, 26, of 7 Simmons Drive, Saugerties, who was arrested on Albany avenue at 7:42 a. m., is due in court tomorrow.

32 Persons Die As Crippled Plane Crashes, Burns

Blackbushe, England, May 2 (AP)—A crippled military transport plane crashed in flames last night after a desperate attempt to return here for an emergency landing. Thirty-two of 35 persons aboard died.

The twin-engine Viking was carrying military personnel and their families to Libya. Officials said the dead included one woman and two children. Also aboard were 25 British soldiers, 2 war department civilian workers and a crew of 5.

Four soldiers were taken alive from the flaming wreckage and rushed to a hospital but one died there. The other three were badly burned.

The plane had just left the Blackbushe airfield for Lyon, France, its first stop, when a radioed appeal was made for permission to return for an emergency landing. The pilot was circling the field to get lined up with a runway when one engine exploded. The plane crashed near a highway, ripped through a row of 60 trees and burst into flames. It went down two miles from the runway.

The air ministry said the plane belonged to the Eagle Aviation Co., which ferries troops and equipment to the Mediterranean and Middle East under contract.

Check Brush Fire

West Hurley firemen were called out Tuesday at 3 p. m. for a brush fire which was threatening the property of the Butler Furniture Company on the South Ashokan Boulevard. Firemen fought the fire for an hour. At one time the Butler residence was threatened. Several acres were burned over.

Wallkill Flood Control Group to Meet on May 21

Representatives of three regional Wallkill River Flood Control Committees met this week in Middletown to discuss plans for a Greater Wallkill Flood Control Committee.

The New Paltz area was represented by Norman Kellar, chairman of the Wallkill Valley Flood Control Committee; Henry Mollenhauer and Harry Dippel; the Goshen-Florida area by Michael A. Gurda, attorney for the Wallkill River Association and the New Jersey group by Warren Welsh, associate Agricultural Agent of Sussex county and George Van Althuis of Sussex, N. J.

The concensus was that flood control on the Wallkill could best be achieved by the concerted efforts of all regions rather than for each small group to work on its own. Toward this end a meeting will be held at the Court House in Goshen May 21 at 8:30 p. m. for the purpose of formally organizing a greater Wallkill Valley Flood Control Committee. All interested individuals and organizations are urged to attend. It is expected that a representative of the Army Corps of Engineers will be present at the Goshen meeting to report on developments to date.

Committee Opens Talks on Higher Postal Charges

Washington, May 2 (AP)—The House Post Office Committee today begins closed-door consideration of increased postal rates—a keystone in the Eisenhower legislative program.

The committee is expected to take a week before coming to a decision on what it will recommend to the House.

Chairman Murray (D-Tenn.) has said the increases were necessary to help put the Post Office Department on a sound business basis.

President Eisenhower has urged Congress to increase rates. The budget he sent to Congress this year counted on increases that would bring in 654 million dollars a year more in revenues.

The bill finally submitted would add about 527½ millions to postal revenues by 1961, with 462 millions in the first year. It includes a penny increase on three-cent and six-cent airmail stamps.

New Use for Cotton Stalks

Ruleville, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi cotton growers who always have plowed under cotton stalks to help the soil have been told the tough plants may be the raw material for a new pulp industry. Dr. W. J. Nolan of the University of Florida, one of the nation's authorities on wood pulp production, has told planters "From what we already have done there appears a certainty that a readily saleable product can be produced." The pulp could be used for cartons, liners, corrugated wrapping materials and related items.

Frost Warnings Up

Canadian Winds To Freeze Most Of N.Y. Tonight

Albany, N. Y., May 2 (AP) — Cold winds from Canada are expected to freeze most of New York state tonight, the weather bureau said today.

The bureau issued frost warnings for the eastern half of the state. Scattered frost was predicted for the western half.

The bureau said the cold Canadian air was being forced southward by a strong high pressure system over Hudson Bay and a low pressure area over Newfoundland.

Temperatures generally were in the upper 20s to lower 30s overnight in the state, the weather bureau said. Saranac Lake reported a low of 28.

Some apple trees have already begun to bud due to April's warm weather.

Lutheran Mission Gets First Report

The Mission to the Pastors meeting held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Red Hook Tuesday morning heard the report that 89 people have made decisions to join the 20 Lutheran churches of the mid-Hudson valley after the first night of visiting.

The calls were made by 221 lay-visitors who interviewed 315 people. In addition to these results, seven children are to be baptized and 20 children have been enrolled in the Sunday church schools.

The Rev. Paul E. Henry chairman of the mission for the area said, "This program of visitation which began last week with the visiting of the members of the various congregations, will continue throughout the week and be developed into a year-round evangelism program in each of the congregations. Last week the members were asked to sign pledge cards, promising to do three things. They are:

1) To pray daily for the mission. 2) To attend the services of the mission held each evening this week through Thursday at 8 p. m., and finally to invite unchurched relatives, neighbors and friends to the services.

The Rev. Harold Norris, of Ancram, was the leader of the Bible study at the morning session, centering his thoughts about the theme that "effective Evangelism must have effective evangelists, which can only come through prayer, study and devotion." The Rev. William Marburger of Orwigsburg, Pa., spoke to the missioners on how evangelism can be used on pastoral visitations.

In conclusion, the Rev. Mr. Henry said, "The most important aspect of this Evangelism Mission is first the 'inreach' as we inwardly develop the spiritual life of the congregation. As that happens, then the people have to go and 'reach out' to share the Gospel of Jesus Christ today. If when this mission concludes on Thursday evening, one person in the mid-Hudson valley comes to know Jesus Christ and the power and freedom that comes from being His follower, then every moment of toil . . . every doorbell rung, every dollar spent will have been worthwhile."

Quake Is Recorded

Cleveland, May 2 (AP) — A "moderate" earthquake was recorded at 12:02 a. m. Eastern Daylight Time today on the seismograph at John Carroll University. Seismologists estimated the quake was 2,100 miles south of Cleveland, which would place it in Nicaragua. The Rev. Henry F. Birkenhauer said the earthquake would have been strong enough to cause damage if it occurred near a populated area.

Bishop Newell told the conference yesterday it also should recruit 112 new ministers by 1960.

The Rev. D. George Davies of the Kingston District reported that $850,000 was spent during the past year on new churches in the conference—which comprises the New York city area and lower New York state up to and including Kingston and Poughkeepsie.

Pinza Is Improving

Stamford, Conn., May 2 (AP)—Ezio Pinza was reported today to be showing improvement after having suffered another heart attack—his third since last August. Mrs. Pinza said her husband, the operatic basso who became a popular Broadway star, spent the night at home under an oxygen tent and appeared to be improved this morning. Present plans, she said, are to keep him home, rather than have him go to a hospital. Pinza was stricken Tuesday evening.

Guild Strike Is In Second Day At Ohio Paper

Lima, Ohio, May 2 (AP)—The Lima News planned to publish again today as a strike by some 45 members of the American Newspaper Guild entered its second day.

The News, an afternoon daily, published a 24-page edition with a skeleton staff of non-union workers yesterday. The paper came off the press about five hours late.

45 Picket Plant

A union spokesman said about 45 members of the editorial department and the advertising and business offices began picketing the News plant at 6 a. m. yesterday. Members of the newspaper's mechanical department, whose contract expired midnight Tuesday, refused to cross the lines.

William R. Lee, president of Local 166 of the Guild,, said the union is asking for "union security." Negotiations began when the Guild's contract ended Feb. 28, but they apparently collapsed after Tuesday's session.

Frank H. Gooey, editor of the News, said the paper is against a union shop, where employes must join the union. An open shop prevails in the business and editorial offices. The mechanical department has a union shop.

Proposed School Costs Explained To Rotary Club

Estimated cost of the proposed junior high school in the Dietz Stadium area is in line with the state average for such construction, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Robert S. Macdonald told the Kingston Rotary Club at its Wednesday luncheon meeting.

The estimate of the State Education Department for the proposed junior high school for 1,000 students is $21 per square foot, he said.

He quoted the State Education Department to the effect that the state average for such construction was between $19.80 and $20 per square foot. "An overlay of five per cent was added to this to cover any emergencies of increases in building costs between the approval at a referendum and the completion of final plans and specifications. Costs are still rising."

Mr. Macdonald explained that after the engagement of an architect preliminary plans for the building were drawn up and submitted to the State Education Department which revised and modified the plans according to current educational philosophies and furnished the architect with a cost figure for the proposed building on the basis of the experience of state-wide construction projects.

Costs of Other Schools

Mr. Macdonald cited the costs of other schools built during the past two years. In 1955 three schools were built in Nassau county at respective costs of $20.50, $23.60 and $23.15 per square foot, while the same year in Westchester county a junior high school was built at a cost of $20.80 per square foot.

In 1956, he pointed out, schools were built in Nassau and Rockland counties at costs of $23.19 and $21.60 per square foot. In 1957 schools have been bid in Madison and St. Lawrence counties at respective prices of $20.50 and $21.60 per square foot.

Mr. Macdonald pointed out that these were only examples of similar building programs to indicate that it does cost more to build schools in some localities and under certain conditions "than has been stated at various times," particularly when special facilities must be provided to qualify for full state aid.

Quoting the Education Law, Mr. Macdonald said that in the event bids were received at less than the $21 estimate of the architect and the State Education Department no more than the amount of the bids could be spent. Any excess could only be used to redeem the bonds issued for the construction of the school.

Presiding for the Kingston Board of Education was Robert Herzog, president.

Other Speakers

David Kline, a member of the board of education, explained the educational facilities of the proposed school. Chester Baltz Sr., another board member, discussed the selection of the Dietz Staduim area as its site and Mr. Herzog explained the legal requirements for voting and urged everyone to "get out and vote at the May 7 referendum."

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston schools, explained the need for the building in terms of enrollment, pointing out that " in looking at the other side of the coin" the alternative would be overcrowding, double session, rented quarters and constant shifting of students from place to place, "all of which would be expensive, unsatisfactory and temporary solution to the ever-increasing problem of classroom space."

Chambers School Youth Program To Start Tonight

A Youth Program at the Chambers School, sponsored by the town of Ulster with state aid funds, will get under way tonight at 7 o'clock.

The program is free of charge and is for boys and girls of the Chambers School area over 10 years of age and will include games and sports of various kinds. The program will be conducted at the school each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 7 to 9:30 p. m. and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. The program is similar to that conducted last year.

Director of the program will be Vincent Palmieri, coach at the Chambers School.
